ALLIES RETIRE FROM GALLIPOLI

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Constantinople, Jan. 10.—Such demonstrations of rejoicing as this city has not known in many years have been taking place during the last 24 hours over the withdrawal of the balance of the Anglo-French troops from the Gallipoli Peninsula. The evacuation of the peninsula has been a Turkish army of 250,000 men for operations elsewhere. Constantinople was illuminated all night and the streets were crowded. The government buildings and many residences are decorated with flags. Special services are being held in the mosques. Heavy losses were inflicted upon the allies in the last stages of the Dardanelles fighting and the war office reports that an allied transport was sunk by Turkish artillery. The belief prevails that the troops withdrawn from Sedd-el-Bahr are sent to Saloniki. A great amount of booty was captured by the Turks at Sedd-el-Bahr when the allies retired. The work of sorting and enumerating it is going on now. Heavy howitzers from Germany and Austria, which have been arriving here since through traffic on the Bosphorus, have been resumed, are being mounted on the Gallipoli heights. The Turks and German officers are confident that the allied warships which have been lying off the entrance to the Dardanelles will now have to retire.

SNOW FOLLOWS COLDEST DAY

With a temperature conducive to snowfall, Kingston and the Hudson valley were visited this morning by heavy snowstorm. Snow fell steadily and shortly after noon the depth was nearly four inches. The mercury stood at thirty-four today against eight below zero recorded in some sections of the city Sunday morning. At The Freeman office on Monday the lowest point was two below zero. Skating was enjoyed Sunday by youngsters in the harbor until after dark when the wash from the ferry boat transport broke the ice for some distance up the creek. A few youngsters resorted themselves on the ice. Athletic field but preparations are under way to freeze the pool again. The surface was unsatisfactory. It is the intention of the management to stage some first class hockey games there later in the season, the sea being to match a New York city team against a Canadian aggregation. Hockey is a sport new to this city and it is believed considerable interest could be developed.

UBMARINES ARE LAYING MINES

Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, Jan. 10.—Mine-sweeping operations on a vast scale have been inaugurated since the destruction of a British battleship King Edward I presumably by a mine planted by German submarines. Although all of the ship's crew, 7, were saved, the loss of the King Edward VII is a serious blow to the fleet for it was one of the best of the last class of pre-dreadnoughts. Since the German U-boats gave up their campaign of destruction against merchant shipping, evidence is developed that many of these derelict craft have been slipped for mine-laying purposes and are carrying on this work in the unexpected places around the British Isles. The King Edward VII was the last important warship lost by Britain since the war started. The loss of the battleship coming at the same time as the announcement that the allied forces have completely evacuated the Gallipoli Peninsula caused gloom, but government leaders, referring to the old adage "It is an ill wind that blows no good," believe that this disastrous event will have a good effect on recruiting and further ally opposition conscription. Military experts refer to the withdrawal of the Entente Allies from the Dardanelles as "a glorious failure" and the loss of life accompanying the operation, but despite the loss of the retirement another ally has been written into the history of the war. It is generally believed here that troops taken from the Dardanelles will go into the Balkans. Sir Charles Monro, commander at the Dardanelles, probably left on once to France to assume command of the first British army, and to which he was appointed in time ago.

Fatally injured in a coasting accident Friday night in Middletown, Eph. I. Wade, aged 13, plucky rescuer who removed him under the wheels of a trolley into which his sled had crashed.

NOVEL EFFECTS AT ELKS' MINSTRELS

A Minstrel Show that will be Different, Delightful, and an Artistic and Musical Novelty, to be Given by Home Talent.
On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week the Colonial Glee Club will give a minstrel show at Kingston Opera House. Most of the members of the club are Elks, and their entertainment this year will be given for the Elks' charity fund. The local order of the B. P. O. E. has always done a great deal for the poor of the city. Their charity is steady and consistent, and their aid is freely given to the needy of every race and creed.

The entertainment on the 17th and 18th of this month, while it is called a minstrel show, is of such a novel character that it might properly be called a minstrel and vaudeville show. The regular minstrel "first part" will have an artistic setting which will be startling in its novelty. Nothing quite like it has ever been seen on the stage, either amateur or professional. The circle numbers some of the best known singers in Kingston, and the endmen are comedians of reputation. Dr. E. E. Henry will act as inter-locutor and his distinguished presence will grace the big center chair. Around him will sit P. B. Fitzpatrick, Richter Zelliff, Frank Elston, Willis Hills, E. E. Eastmead, Christopher K. Loughran, Abrams Van Aken, John E. McCarthy, Dr. A. L. Hill, Charles Finch, Elmer Burger, E. F. Kuehn, Walter Weeks, C. E. Wonderly, Dr. Raymond Sanderson. On the ends will be seen Bert Davis, John Leonard, Ezra Abrahams and Thomas Dolan, and later there will enter the premiers, W. G. Merritt and Chester S. Osterhoudt.

One of the new features of the show will be a half circle of young ladies sitting behind and above the black-face artists. The women's voices ringing high above the men's in the choruses will add considerably to the musical effect and the costumes will be charmingly artistic. The ladies of the chorus are Miss Dora Mosher, Miss Tessa Gillett, Miss Elizabeth Martin, Miss Sarah Humphrey, Miss Mary Heidecamp, Miss Hilda Rifenbary, Miss Majorie Davis, Miss Helen Stern, Miss Marguerite Keating, Miss Rose Cullen, Mrs. Robert Liscomb, Miss Helen Stern is the soloist.

Following the first part there will be a short and screamingly funny farce entitled "Bargain Day," acted by Miss Tessa Gillett and Martin Neiter, assisted by Master Fehmer Chandler in the part of a messenger boy. A musical specialty, "Hello Frisco," will be put on with the same scenic effects that were used in Ziegfeld's Follies in New York. This will be sung by Miss Hilda Rifenbary and John E. McCarthy, assisted by a chorus of girls.

The last number on the program, usually called the "Olio," will be a laughable skit written by Mrs. George Chandler. This little farce entitled "King Koe's Kingdom," will be delightfully played by a caste of characters who are well fitted to bring out the fun in the ridiculous situations which arise in the alleged plot. The program will announce the play as follows:

King Koe's Kingdom.
A Skit,
By Mrs. George Chandler.
Time—"Somewhere in France."
Place—"Somewhere in France."
Cast of Characters.
King Koe—Philip B. Fitzpatrick, Solomon, his advisor—Burton Davis Kaffee-Hag, his fool—(Everything extracted from the bean) . . . . . Ezra A. Abrahams General Debility, commander of his troops—Daniel Cronan The Army—Dr. Raymond L. Sanderson Emissary from the emperor—Edward Frank Flanagan Page—Master Teddy Rioridan . . . . . Soldiers, pacifists, aviators, doves, bombs and grape juice. The Colonial Glee Club is an organization which has been in existence over fifteen years. The late Senator John N. Cordts was for many years its president and took a great interest in its many entertainments. The first show ever put on by this club was the Billy Sellers benefit fifteen years ago this winter, a performance still well remembered by most people in this town. The Colonial Club has been recently re-organized and will take a new lease of life under the management of the following capable officers: Aaron Cohen, president; Judge James Jenkins, first vice president; Martin Cashin, second vice president; George Inness, third vice president; George Washburn, fourth vice president; Martin Cantline, fifth vice president; C. V. A. Decker, secretary; Charles J. Mullen, treasurer. The performance next week will be under the personal direction of Dr. George Chandler who will conduct the orchestra and manage the stage. There will be an orchestra of sixteen pieces, special scenery and electric effects, and the costumes will be furnished by Tams of New York. Tickets may be obtained at Cohens, Riders, Winters, O'Reilly's, Connolly drug store and Ben Johnston's. These tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats at the box office of the theater on Friday morning of this week at 9 a. m. The advance sale of tickets has been large and from all indications the theater will be packed at both performances.

WOMAN WHO GOES ON TRIAL TODAY, HUSBAND WHOM SHE IS ACCUSED OF MURDERING, AND THEIR HOME IN PROVIDENCE.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Franklin Mohr and the Mohr Home.
Providence, R. I., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Elizabeth Blair Mohr, Cecil Victor Brown and Henry Spellman, the two negroes with whom Mrs. Mohr is alleged to have conspired to kill her husband from ambush on the night of August 31, 1915, went on trial today. Mrs. Mohr was asked for a separate trial, and the motion was denied.

WAR OF WORDS AMONG FORD'S DOVES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
The Hague, Jan. 10.—Though the Ford peace delegates had expected to accomplish much of the preliminary work of permanent organization today, they found themselves confronted by an embarrassing tangle when they got down to work. During Sunday a full fledged revolution had developed. This was led by the Scandinavian delegates who, after informal conferences, met in the evening and made a united and vigorous protest against what they called "the indefiniteness of the proposed peace conference." Louis P. Lochner, personal representative of Henry Ford, had been invited to attend the meeting and he attempted to explain the purpose of the expedition to the satisfaction of the Scandinavian delegates. A Norwegian delegate interrupted him with cries of "Words! Words!" and after several unsuccessful attempts to continue Lochner left the meeting. The Scandinavian delegates took no decided action except to indorse a demand that no more messages be sent to the European rulers.

Pastor Snyder Honored.
The Rev. Howard E. Snyder, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, has again been honored by the National Guard of New York State. The National Guard Association of the State of New York convenes in the assembly chamber at Albany, January 29. It is customary to select a chaplain from the Corps of Chaplains of the New York Division to officiate at the convention. Pastor Snyder was selected last year and has again been honored by being selected this year for the position. There are many other chaplains with longer service in the state than Mr. Snyder. Pastor Snyder is chaplain of the 10th Regiment Infantry, N. G. He has seen active service as a soldier. He is very popular with the officers and men of the regiment and staff officers of the New York Division. The National Guard Association is a purely military association. Problems of military preparedness and efficiency are considered. The leading men of the army and navy are present and discuss important questions. On Saturday evening a banquet to the governor will be given at the Ten Eyck Hotel.

Early Morning Fire.
While patrolling his beat at an early hour this morning Policeman James Lawrence discovered fire in the residence of Clarence Ryan, No. 304 East Union street, and rang in an alarm from Box 18. The firemen quickly responded and by prompt work saved the house from destruction. The fire is thought to have started from an overheated chimney and the kitchen, bathroom and roof were badly damaged. Chief Chipp estimated the damage was about $750.

P. S. Board in Middletown.
A public hearing on the petition of the city of Middletown to compel bridge repairs by the Erie railroad and Walkill Valley Transit Company is set for tomorrow before the public service commission in the common council chambers at Middletown.

Middletown Cop Jumps City.
Tendering his resignation in a brief note, Policeman Ray W. Dopson quit Middletown last week and has not been heard of since. He left his wife and two young children. Efforts to locate Dopson have been unavailing and his successor will be named tonight.

ANNUAL MEETING COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Matters of Interest and Importance to Be Discussed in Addition to the Election of Officers at Meeting on Saturday.
At the annual meeting of the Ulster County Farm Bureau Saturday, January 15, beginning at 1:30 p. m., in the court house, the topics for discussion will be: An amendment to the constitution and by-laws of the bureau which will make a life member of every person who contributes $25 or over for the support of the bureau. An amendment to the constitution and by-laws which will make it possible for members to ballot by mail for officers and upon resolutions. "Rapidly developing the prosperity of Ulster county through the Farm Bureau," by the New York state director of farm bureaus, M. C. Burritt. "How to secure the largest yearly returns from men, horses, dairy and number of tillable acres," by Professor K. C. Livermore, department of farm management, college of agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y. "Agriculture in Ulster county. Its past and future," by T. E. Benedict, Ellenville, N. Y. A hay growers' society for the grading and selling of hay. What the Hudson River Fruit Exchange is doing for Ulster county. A second fair for Ulster county to be pomological in nature and held about October 1, 1916. The election of officers and executive committee for 1916.

WATCHING MR. TAYLOR.
Cigar Manufacturing Firm Shows Appreciation of Faithful Service.
At the annual banquet given by the firm of G. W. Van Slyke & Horton, cigar manufacturers, to their salesmen and office department, December 8, at Albany, Andrew M. Taylor, one of their representatives, was presented with a gold watch and chain by the firm as a token of esteem and regard in appreciation of twenty-five years of loyal and faithful service. The presentation speech was made by George W. Van Slyke, president of the firm, and in accepting Mr. Taylor feelingly responded. The watch bears the following inscription: "Presented to Andrew M. Taylor by G. W. Van Slyke & Horton as a token of their high esteem and appreciation of 25 years of loyal service, January 8, 1916."

Lived Century in Croton.
Children, grandchildren and great grandchildren aided Mrs. Jane Jordan Reynolds, formerly of Croton Lake, in the celebration of her 100th birthday anniversary Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. Wood Cornell, at Pleasantville, N. Y. Mrs. Reynolds was born at Croton and has passed all of her life there with the exception of the past year. Six of her eight children survive together with eleven grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren.

Schools Ordered Closed.
Upon orders of Health Officer Dr. John H. DeWitt, the Saugerties schools will be closed all week, in order to suppress the epidemic of measles, grip and pneumonia now prevalent among the children in the village.

Hurt by a Fall.
While walking along East Chester street Sunday afternoon, George Moxham slipped on the ice and in falling his hand struck some brush, a stalk of which pierced his palm almost to the outside of his hand.

HORSE OWNERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS

There was but a handful of the members of the Ulster County Horse Owners' Protective Association at the annual meeting at the court house Saturday afternoon. Of the fifty enrolled in the association only twelve met to transact the business which had accumulated during the year. President Joel Brink and Vice President Matthew T. E. DeWitt being absent, Secretary Edward McSpirt was chosen to act as chairman of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The secretary's report for the work the last year showed that there were 49 members in the association and that no horses had been stolen during the year just completed. The treasurer's report, which was adopted, showed a balance of $728 in the treasury, after all bills had been ordered paid. All of last year's officers were re-elected as follows: Joel Brink, president; Matthew T. DeWitt, vice president; Edward McSpirt, secretary; Minard W. Myer, treasurer; John C. Oliver, C. N. DeWitt, Minard W. Myer, Henry J. Hoffman, Frank Clow, Ross Bloom and Arthur Woolsey, directors; Dr. Wright Smith, Joel Brink, Henry Hoffman and Edgar T. Shultis, executive committee.

REAL ESTATE SALES.
Deeds Recently Recorded in County Clerk's Office.
The following deeds have been filed in the county clerk's office: Samuel Siminofsky and wife, of New York city, to Louis Siminofsky, town of Rochester, a parcel of land in the town of Rochester, in consideration of $600.

Elsie F. Herrick, of the village of Saugerties, to August Knobloch, town of Saugerties, a parcel of land in the town of Saugerties, in consideration of $1. Sybil S. Smith, city of Kingston, to Nelson C. Lezatte and wife, this city, a parcel of land in this city, on Liberty street, in consideration of $1. George H. Chase and wife, of the town of Lloyd, to George W. Goudy, same place, a parcel of land in the town of Lloyd, in consideration of $3,520.

August Knobloch and wife, town of Saugerties, to Elsie Herrick, village of Saugerties, a parcel of land in the town of Saugerties, in consideration of $1. An apparently successful remedy for grip which stood the test of 1889 is recalled by a reader. Eucalyptus oil is the preventive used and a staff officer in the British Civil Service gave directions to place about offices each day small strips of blotting paper with a few drops of the oil thereon. The plan proved successful in London and elsewhere and has been successfully used in Kingston this winter.

"Poisoned Voice" Mystery.
Poughkeepsie has a telephone mystery on its hands, an unknown woman in Arlington having been busily engaged the last week in calling up members of the Women's Auxiliary, which is the feminine branch of the Arlington Fire Company, and urging them to resign. In response to the mysterious mentor seven have already resigned.

Newburgh Man Will Recover.
Thomas W. Penz, the 73 year old Newburgh resident hurt in a runaway accident Friday, will recover. It was reported that he suffered a fractured skull.

THREE MEN KILLED IN DUPONT MILL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Wilmington, Del., Jan. 10.—Three men were blown to bits by an explosion in the glazing plant of mill No. 1 of the DuPont Powder Company at Carney's Point, N. J., early today. The structure, a small building, was completely shattered. The three men killed were the only ones working there at the time. Early rumors had the death list running as high as 43 and said that scores had been injured, but it was officially announced here at 9:15 a. m. that only three had been killed and none injured. An official of the DuPont Company stated that the explosion was undoubtedly accidental and denied reports that a number of suspicious characters had been arrested after the blast.

DR. CLARKE RAIDS COURT ROOM GERMS

Also He Probably Destroyed the Zoological Collection Seen at Night by a Tramp in the City Hall.
The air in recorder's court was much purer and cleaner than usual this morning due to the fact that Saturday afternoon Dr. Harold Clarke, the sanitary inspector, made a successful raid on the germs and thoroughly fumigated the court room for the first time in many years. The raid on the germs was brought about by the fact that the other day a tramp on the verge of the "D. T." reported to Billy Scott, the colored night janitor at the city hall, that he did not like to walk past the court room at night when he door was open as he saw a number of curious beasts that were neither flesh nor fowl but partook of the characteristics of both having thirty-three wings, fifty-three legs, forty-three eyes, and twenty-one ears. He also saw a number of pink and blue elephants and snakes. As the tramp's appearance showed that he had not taken a bath in a year or so and considering the fact that the court room daily when arraigned for trial, it was thought best to fumigate.

MEADOW STREET FIGHT.
"Who Struck Billy Patterson?"
Puzzle Copied in Rondout.

Conflicting evidence as to who struck the first blow in the fight between Charles Blanchan and James Barry, which led to Blanchan receiving a black eye and having Barry arrested, caused Recorder Lang this morning to discharge Barry with a warning to steer clear of fist fights in the future. The fight which finally led to recorder's court was staged on the corner of Broadway and Meadow street the other night. It seems that Blanchan and his son, Joe, and John McGrath were busy that evening moving a family to a house on Meadow street. While Joe was crossing Broadway with a box on his back Barry threw a snow ball at him. Joe told his father and the latter walked up to Barry and told him to get out. Blanchan claimed that Barry retorted by hitting him in "the puss". He claimed that Barry struck the first blow and his story was corroborated by his son and McGrath. Barry testified that Blanchan came up to him spitting on his hands and made a pass at him. Dewey Maroon who runs the confectionery store on Broadway said that Blanchan struck the first blow which was also the testimony of John Keator. Blanchan tried to explain that he did not lift his hand in a threatening manner in Barry but was simply wiping the dust from his eye and then Barry hit him, but Barry's witnesses all said that Blanchan was not attempting to wipe his eye but to hit Barry and he succeeded. Both fighters have a large number of friends and the court room was filled with an interesting throng. Filaments From Pound of Tungsten.
About 25,000 incandescent lamp filaments can be made from one pound of tungsten.

HOUSE TO HOUSE WATER INSPECTION

Starting Tuesday, William J. O'Neil and Edgar Hollstein, the inspectors of the water board, will commence the work of making the special investigation ordered recently by the water board to ascertain the number of fixtures installed in the houses in the city using the city water. This means that the inspectors will make a house to house canvass and before the work is completed will have made at least 7,000 inspections. It has been found that plumbers install new fixtures in houses without reporting to the water board as required and as a result the board is not receiving all the water revenue it should from the amount of fixtures being used. The inspection will be one of the most thorough ever undertaken by the water board and will take several months to complete.

ITALIAN SOCIETY INSTALLS OFFICERS

At the monthly meeting of St. Mary's Benevolence Association of Kingston Point, held Sunday, January 9, at 2:30 p. m., in Saddle Hall, on North street, their new officers were installed as follows: Nicolas Amato, president; Philip Sottile, vice president; John Sottile, secretary; Frank Palisi, financial secretary; John Ambrose, treasurer; trustees, John Mayone, John Sottile, Barn Perri. This association since it was organized four years ago by John Sottile with a small membership, is getting along nicely, increasing in members each year and it has celebrated the feast of St. Mary two years by inviting all the Italian societies around Kingston to attend religious instruction in Italian in St. Mary's Church. Nicolas Amato, in appreciation of good administration of the past year has been re-elected president of the society and the members are very proud to have such a man as Mr. Amato for president because he is one of the best Italians in the city. Mr. Amato belongs to the Loyal Order of the Moose and other organizations and the society is sure to have the best administration. They had for their guests Frank Spadaro, president of the Society of Christopher Columbus; Pietro de Luca, president, and Galtano Amato, vice president of St. John the Baptist Society; Pietro Graniero, president and Giovanni Guida, vice president of St. Liberato. Each made an interesting speech, wishing the Society of St. Mary many more of these happy annual celebrations, and after the meeting they walked to the tables and had a nice chicken supper that Frank Palisi and Nick Amato devoted their time to make good, and all enjoyed the evening with great pleasure.

Arrows Challenge Crescents.
To the Sporting Editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman:
Dear Sir:
A short time ago the Arrow Five of Catskill of which I am the manager, were defeated at the Washington Hill in Kingston, by the Crescent Club, by a score of 29 to 27. Since that time my players have been anxious to again try conclusions with the Crescent team, as they are one and all of the opinion, that they are a much better club than the one at whose hands they suffered defeat. The Arrows had played a hard contest on the night before their game with the Crescents and we were lacking the services of one of our star players which helped considerably to cause our defeat. Through your columns, I wish to again challenge the Crescent Club to a game of basketball, same to be played at Washington Hall on any date convenient to the Crescents. Thanking you in advance for your kindness in publishing the above challenge, I am, Respectfully,
B. B. GLENNON.
Mr. Arrow Five, Catskill, N. Y.
Lectured on Grip Prevention.
Before a large audience in Cohen's theatre, Poughkeepsie, Sunday, Dr. Lindsey R. Williams, deputy state health commissioner, gave a lecture on preventive measures for grip and influenza. A feature of the meeting was the musical program given by the Germania Singing Society.

The Colonial Glee Club is an organization which has been in existence over fifteen years. The late Senator John N. Cordts was for many years its president and took a great interest in its many entertainments. The first show ever put on by this club was the Billy Sellers benefit fifteen years ago this winter, a performance still well remembered by most people in this town. The Colonial Club has been recently reorganized and will take a new lease of life under the management of the following capable officers: Aaron Cohen, president; Judge James Jenkins, first vice president; Martin Cashion, second vice president; George Inness, third vice president; George Washburn, fourth vice president; Martin Cantine, fifth vice president; C. V. A. Decker, secretary; Charles J. Mullen, treasurer. The performance next week will be under the personal direction of Dr. George Chandler who will conduct the orchestra and manage the stage. There will be an orchestra of sixteen pieces, special scenery and electric effects, and the costumes will be furnished by Tams of New York. Tickets may be obtained at Cohen's, Rider's, Winter's, O'Brien's, Connelly drug store and Ben. Johnston's. These tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats at the box office of the theater on Friday morning of this week at 9 a. m. The advance sale of tickets has been large and from all indications the theater will be packed at both performances.

WOMAN WHO GOES ON TRIAL TODAY, HUSBAND WHOM SHE IS ACCUSED OF MURDERING, AND THEIR HOME IN PROVIDENCE.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Franklin Mohr and the Mohr Home.
Providence, R. I., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Elizabeth Blair Mohr, Cecil Victor Brown and Henry Spellman, the two negroes with whom Mrs. Mohr is alleged to have conspired to kill her husband from ambush on the night of August 31, 1915, went on trial today. Mrs. Mohr was asked for a separate trial, and the motion was denied.

WAR OF WORDS AMONG FORD'S DOVES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
The Hague, Jan. 10.—Though the Ford peace delegates had expected to accomplish much of the preliminary work of permanent organization today, they found themselves confronted by an embarrassing tangle when they got down to work. During Sunday a full fledged revolution had developed. This was led by the Scandinavian delegates who, after informal conferences, met in the evening and made a united and vigorous protest against what they called "the indecentness of the proposed peace conference." Louis P. Lochner, personal representative of Henry Ford, had been invited to attend the meeting and he attempted to explain the purpose of the expedition to the satisfaction of the Scandinavian delegates. A Norwegian delegate interrupted him with cries of "Words! Words! Words!" and after several unsuccessful attempts to continue Lochner left the meeting. The Scandinavian delegates took no decided action except to endorse a demand that no more messages be sent to the European rulers.

Pastor Snyder Honored

The Rev. Howard E. Snyder, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, has again been honored by the National Guard of New York State. The National Guard Association of the State of New York convenes in the assembly chamber at Albany, January 29. It is customary to select a chaplain from the Corps of Chaplains of the New York Division to officiate at the convention. Pastor Snyder was selected last year and has again been honored by being selected this year for the position. There are many other chaplains with longer service in the state than Mr. Snyder. Pastor Snyder is chaplain of the 10th Regiment Infantry, N. G. N. Y. He has seen active service as a soldier. He is very popular with the officers and men of the regiment and division. The National Guard Association is a purely military association. Problems of military preparedness and efficiency are considered. The leading men of the army and navy are present and discuss important questions. On Saturday evening a banquet to the governor will be given at the Ten Eyck Hotel.

Early Morning Fire

While patrolling his beat at an early hour this morning Policeman James Lawrence discovered fire in the residence of Clarence Ryan, No. 304 East Union street, and rang in an alarm from Box 18. The firemen quickly responded and by prompt work saved the house from destruction. The fire is thought to have started from an overheated chimney and the kitchen, bathroom and roof were badly damaged. Chief Chipp estimated the damage was about $750.

P. S. Board in Middletown

A public hearing on the petition of the city of Middletown to compel bridge repairs by the Erie railroad and Walkhill Valley Transit Company is set for tomorrow before the public service commission in the common council chambers at Middletown.

Middletown Cop Jumps City

Tendering his resignation in a brief note, Policeman Ray W. Denson quit Middletown last week and has not been heard of since. He left his wife and two young children. Efforts to locate Denson have been unavailing and his successor will be named tonight.

ANNUAL MEETING COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Matters of Interest and Importance to Be Discussed in Addition to the Election of Officers at Meeting on Saturday.
At the annual meeting of the Ulster County Farm Bureau Saturday, January 15, beginning at 1.30 p. m., in the court house, the topics for discussion will be: An amendment to the constitution and by-laws of the bureau which will make a life member of every person who contributes $25 or over for the support of the bureau. An amendment to the constitution and by-laws which will make it possible for members to ballot by mail for officers and upon resolutions. "Rapidly developing the prosperity of Ulster county through the Farm Bureau," by the New York state director of farm bureaus, M. C. Burritt. "How to secure the largest yearly returns from men, horses, dairy and number of tillable acres," by Professor K. C. Livermore, department of farm management, college of agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y. "Agriculture in Ulster county, its past and future," by T. E. Benedict, Ellenville, N. Y. A lay growers society for the grading and selling of hay. What the Hudson River Fruit Exchange is doing for Ulster county. A second fair for Ulster county to be pomological in nature and held about October 1, 1916. The election of officers and executive committee for 1916.

WATCHING MR. TAYLOR

Cigar Manufacturing Firm Shows Appreciation of Faithful Service.
At the annual banquet given by the firm of G. W. Van Slyke & Horton, cigar manufacturers, to their salesmen and office department, December 3, at Albany, Andrew M. Taylor, one of their representatives, was presented with a gold watch and chain by the firm as a token of esteem and regard in appreciation of twenty-five years of loyal and faithful service. The presentation speech was made by George W. Van Slyke, president of the firm, and in accepting Mr. Taylor feelingly responded. The watch bears the following inscription: "Presented to Andrew M. Taylor by G. W. Van Slyke & Horton as a token of their high esteem and appreciation of 25 years of loyal service, January 8, 1916."

Lived Century in Croton

Children, grandchildren and great grandchildren aided Mrs. Jane Jordan Reynolds, formerly of Croton, in the celebration of her 100th birthday anniversary Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. Wood Cornell, at Pleasantville, N. Y. Mrs. Reynolds was born at Croton and has passed all of her life there with the exception of the past year. Six of her eight children survive together with eleven grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren.

Schools Ordered Closed

Upon orders of Health Officer Dr. John H. DeWitt, the Saugerties schools will be closed all week in order to suppress the epidemic of measles, grip and pneumonia now prevalent among the children in the village.

Hurt by a Fall

While walking along East Chester street Sunday afternoon, George Norham slipped on the ice and in falling his hand struck some brush, a stalk of which pierced his palm almost to the outside of his hand.

HORSE OWNERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS

There was but a handful of the members of the Ulster County Horse Owners' Protective Association at the annual meeting at the court house Saturday afternoon. Of the fifty enrolled in the association only twelve met to transact the business which had accumulated during the year. President Joel Brink and Vice President Matthew T. E. DeWitt being absent. Secretary Edward McEntee was chosen to act as chairman of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The secretary's report for the work the last year showed that there were 49 members in the association and that no horses had been stolen during the year just completed. The treasurer's report, which was adopted, showed a balance of $728 in the treasury, after all bills had been ordered paid. All of last year's officers were re-elected as follows: Joel Brink, president; Matthew T. DeWitt, vice president; Edward McEntee, secretary; Minard W. Myer, treasurer; John C. Oliver, C. N. DeWitt, Minard W. Myer, Henry J. Hoffman, Frank Clow, Ross Bloom and Arthur Woolsey, directors; Dr. Wright Smith, Joel Brink, Henry Hoffman and Edgar T. Shultis, executive committee.

British Remedy for Grip

An apparently successful remedy for grip which stood the test of 1899 is recalled by a reader. Eucalyptus oil is the preventive used and a staff officer in the British Civil Service gave directions to place about offices each day small strips of blotting paper with a few drops of the oil thereon. The plan proved successful in London and elsewhere and has been successfully used in Kingston this winter.

"Poisoned Voice" Mystery

Poughkeepsie has a telephone mystery on its hands, an unknown woman in Arlington having been busily engaged the last week in calling up members of the Women's Auxiliary, which is the feminine branch of the Arlington Fire Company, and urging them to resign. In response to the mysterious mentor seven have already resigned.

THREE MEN KILLED IN DUPONT MILL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Wilmington, Del., Jan. 10.—Three men were blown to bits by an explosion in the glazing plant of mill No. 1 of the DuPont Powder Company at Carney's Point, N. J., early today. The structure, a small building, was completely shattered. The three men killed were the only ones working there at the time. Early rumors had the death list running as high as 43 and said that scores had been injured, but it was officially announced here at 9.15 a. m. that only three had been killed and none injured. An official of the DuPont Company stated that the explosion was undoubtedly accidental and denied reports that a number of suspicious characters had been arrested after the blast.

HOUSE TO HOUSE WATER INSPECTION

Starting Tuesday, William J. O'Neil and Edgar Hollstein, the inspectors of the water board, will commence the work of making the special investigation ordered recently by the water board to ascertain the number of fixtures installed in the houses in the city using the city water. This means that the inspectors will make a house to house canvass and before the work is completed will have made at least 7,000 inspections. It has been found that plumbers install new fixtures in houses without reporting to the water board as required and as a result the board is not receiving all the water revenue it should from the amount of fixtures being used. The inspection will be one of the most thorough ever undertaken by the water board and will take several months to complete.

DR. CLARKE RAIDS COURT ROOM GERMS

AS HE THOUGHT DESTROYED THE LOGICAL COLLECTION SEEN AT NIGHT BY A TRAMP IN THE CITY HALL.
The air in recorder's court was much purer and cleaner than usual this morning due to the fact that Saturday afternoon Dr. Harold Clarke, the sanitary inspector, made a successful raid on the germs and thoroughly fumigated the court room for the first time in many years. The raid on the germs was brought about by the fact that the other day a tramp on the verge of the "D. T." reported to Billy Scott, the colored night janitor at the city hall, that he did not like to walk past the court room at night when he door was open as he saw a number of curious beasts that were neither flesh nor fowl but partook of the characteristics of both having thirty-three wings, fifty-three legs, forty-three eyes, and twenty-one ears. He also saw a number of pink and blue elephants and snakes. As the tramp's appearance showed that he had not taken a bath in a year or so and considering the fact that the court room daily when arraigned for trial, it was thought best to fumigate.

ITALIAN SOCIETY INSTALLS OFFICERS

At the monthly meeting of St. Mary's Benevolent Association of Kingston Point, held Sunday, January 9, at 2.30 p. m., in Sottile Hall, on North street, their new officers were installed as follows: Nicolas Amato, president; Philip Sottile, vice president; John Sottile, secretary; Frank Palisi, financial secretary; John Ambrose, treasurer; trustees, John Mayone, John Sottile, Barn Perri. This association since it was organized four years ago by John Sottile with a small membership, is getting along nicely, increasing in members each year and it has celebrated the feast of St. Mary two years by inviting all the Italian societies around Kingston to attend religious instruction in Italian in St. Mary's Church. Nicolas Amato, in appreciation of good administration of the past year has been re-elected president of the society and the members are very proud to have such a man as Mr. Amato for president because he is one of the best Italians in the city. Mr. Amato belongs to the Loyal Order of the Moose and other organizations and the society is sure to have the best administration. They had for their guests Frank Spadafora, president of the Society of Christopher Columbus; Pietro de Luca, president, and Gaitano Amato, vice president of St. John the Baptist Society; Pietro Graniero, president and Giovanni Guida, vice president of St. Liberato. Each made an interesting speech, wishing the Society of St. Mary many more of these happy annual celebrations, and after the meal and a nice chicken supper that Frank Palisi and Nick Amato devoted their time to make good, and all enjoyed the evening with great pleasure.

Arrows Challenge Crescents

To the Sporting Editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman:
Dear Sir:
A short time ago the Arrow Five of Catskill of which I am the manager, were defeated at the Washington Hill in Kingston by the Crescent Club, by a score of 29 to 27. Since that time my players have been anxious to again try conclusions with the Crescents as they are one and all of the opinion that they are a much better club than the one at whose hands they suffered defeat. The Arrows had played a hard contest on the night before their game with the Crescents and we were lacking the services of one of our star players which helped considerably to cause our defeat. Through your columns, I wish to again challenge the Crescent Club to a game of basketball, same to be played at Washington Hall on any date convenient to the Crescents. Thanking you in advance for your kindness in publishing the above challenge, I am, Respectfully, B. B. GLENNON, Mgr. Arrow Five, Catskill, N. Y.
Lectured on Grip Prevention.
Before a large audience in Cohen's theatre, Poughkeepsie, Sunday, Dr. Lindsey R. Williams, deputy state health commissioner, gave a lecture on preventive measures for grip and influenza. A feature of the meeting was the musical program given by the Germania Singing Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt N. Winfield and daughter, Alda, of Ulster Park were guests of Mrs. Winfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Neher, on Bayard street.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. John Lynn on Hamilton street.

Cazlyn Bookhout is ill with grip at the Methodist parsonage.

Leslie Foote is ill at his home on Hamilton street. Dr. G. W. Ross is attending him.

Elmer E. Hutchings of Broadway, who has been ill of grip, is improving.

Dr. George Barber, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, Kingston, will have charge of the week of prayer service in the Methodist Church Tuesday evening.

A meeting of the Sunday school board of the Methodist Church will be held Wednesday evening after the prayer service.

The Brotherhood of the Reformed Church will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, in the Sunday school room, at 8:30 o'clock, immediately after prayer meeting.

Albany Avenue Baptist Church.
Sunday, January 22d, will be observed by the churches in Kingston generally as go-to-church Sunday. Everybody, young and old, saint and sinner, helper and helper, is requested and invited to attend some church service on that day, both morning and evening.

The annual corporate meeting of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church for the election of trustees will be held on Thursday evening, January 20th, at 7 o'clock. Three trustees are to be elected to succeed H. R. Brigham, E. P. Snyder and Dr. N. F. Hill, whose terms of office expire.

Education Pays.

Education pays, even when applied to the ordinary and commonplace pursuits. Girard in the Philadelphia Ledger cites some facts to prove the truth of the proposition: "Education has brought forth a hen in Delaware which may rival in fame the 'Blue Hen' from which the state derived its nickname. She has laid in a year more eggs than a plebeian pullet will put in a nest in a lifetime. Education took a prize at the recent Berks county fair. One tree, properly and carefully nurtured, produced this season 100 bushels of apples. It reads like one of Baron Munchausen's tallest tales, but it is true. Education in Chester county got an equivalent of almost four pounds of butter daily from a cow for an entire year. The Canadian government is just now peddling from a railroad train a new kind of education. Experts are traveling around at public expense to show farmers how to kill and dress their poultry so that it will command a much larger price in market. Other experts are showing Canadian farmers how to fatten poultry in eighteen days with the best results that can be measured by Canadian currency. Yes, sirree. Education has enough money in its pockets to lure ignorance to do all its chores."

Bookkeeper's Accounts Short?

Robert Nelson, for five years a bookkeeper in a bottling works in Newburgh, was arrested Saturday on a grand larceny charge. The complainant, James E. Magoury, thinks Nelson's pecuniations may run to more than $1,500.

Bar Officials as Bidders.

Newburgh's new city government has barred the bid of the W. R. Perkins Company for city supplies because the head of the firm, W. A. Perkins, is a councillor under the new charter.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

Waist 1486: Skirt 1493—A Very Attractive Combination.

This portrays Ladies' Shirt Waist Pattern 1486, and Ladies' Skirt Pattern 1493. As here shown the skirt was developed in checked suiting, and the waist in cream white Georgette crepe. The skirt is a gored model with plaited side sections. The waist has several new style features. The neck is finished with a Quaker collar. The sleeve in bishop style has a wrist frill below tiny upright tucks. The waist is also nice for batiste, satin, silk, flannel, linen or madras. The skirt could be developed in voile, serge, broad cloth, velvet or corduroy. The Waist Pattern 1486 is cut in 6 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. It requires 3 3/4 yards of 44 inch material for a 24 inch size, which measures about 3 2/3 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps by the Freeman Pattern Department. Be sure to state size wanted.

GEN. SCOTT WANTS BIG ARMY AT LESS PAY

Washington, Jan. 10.—Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of the general staff of the United States army, today told the house committee on military affairs that the United States should have an army of a million or two million men, adequately equipped, to be raised by compulsory military service. The general's statement, made during the hearing on the army reorganization bill, created a mild sensation among members of the committee.

Gen. Scott said the present regular army would compare favorably in quality and efficiency with any European army. He said, however, that the European nations kept large armies on the same expenditures now made by the United States. With compulsory military service, he said, the United States could cut down the rate of pay of its soldiers and maintain a great army for the same amount now expended on a small army.

The chief of staff said that he believed the short period of "intensive training" under the continental army plan would make better soldiers than the training now given in the militia. He declared he believed both organizations could be developed side by side.

In reply to Rep. Kahn the general said that he believed two years' service would be the least that would fit men for the reserve.

Gen. Scott in reply to questions by the committee as to why the United States needed 2,000,000 men said they were needed to protect the country against invasion from Europe.

"But two millions of men are too many," objected Rep. Anthony (Texas).

"Two millions of men do not frighten me," declared Gen. Scott. "I would like to inform you gentlemen that Austria could land 72,000 men on her first expedition and 108,000 on her second. The rest of the European nations could land as many or more in the same way."

Red Fox James, the Indian who spoke at the Y. M. C. A. recently, will have charge of the Indian Reservation where he will exhibit a number of relics gathered through the years by him and also give an exhibition of lasso throwing as practiced by the Indians as well as the cowboys, at the Boys' Hobby Show to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on February 22 and 23.

A number of other attractions are also being booked and there will be something doing throughout the entire building. In the auditorium a first class minstrel show will be given. "Gus" Bonesteel has charge of the arrangements for the show which is a sure indication that it will be good. Any boy desiring to sing in the large chorus is urged to get a touch with Mr. Bonesteel as soon as possible as rehearsals will shortly be started. The show promises to be one of the best minstrels ever held off at the association.

Exhibits for the hobby show should be registered as soon as possible. Already two exhibitors have registered. Any boy in the city may enter his hobby at the show. Full details may be secured of Mr. Beckwith Mr. Every at the association office.

Dutch Arms at 8:30.

On account of the cottage prayer meeting which will be held Tuesday evening, the Dutch Arms entertainment at the Fair Street Reformed church will not begin until 8:30 o'clock, after the prayer meetings are concluded. Tuesday night's entertainment will be furnished by Pitt Parker, a famous cartoonist, whose work has been well known for a number of years. Mr. Parker's work is in black and white and also colors.

FIRE DESTROYING TORONTO STATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10.—Fire started early this afternoon in the union railroad station and the entire structure is doomed.

Guests from all adjoining hotels are being taken to places of safety.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The employees of Fessenden's Shirt Factory, about eighty in number, enjoyed a dance at the factory Saturday evening. Miss Ellen Hasbrouck gave several charming and graceful solo dances. During the evening refreshments were served.

Satisfying Music.

There will be a peculiarly satisfying element in the concert to be given by Annie Louise David, harpist, and John Barnes Wells, tenor (second Dodge Subscription concert) at the High School Building on Wednesday evening of this week. The modern harp makes possible a varied program of music that is especially pleasing to listen to, and certainly there is no instrument which calls for such grace of motion and has such artistic possibilities as does the harp. It is almost as much of a pleasure to see Mrs. David play as it is to hear her. As for John Barnes Wells, he first appeals to his audiences as being a man, a man whom other men would gladly know, not just a peculiar personality with a wonderful instrument in its throat. In other words, Mr. Wells has been characterized as a peculiarly human tenor, and so appealing is this quality (in addition to his artistic gifts) that almost without exception his appearance before any audience means a return engagement. It has been well said of him that "he does not sing for the exploitation of a beautiful voice, but rather he uses his wonderful voice to fill the songs he sings with a wealth of beauty and feeling."

Undoubtedly the sale of tickets for this single concert will be large.

The Coterie.

The Coterie held its "New Year's" meeting on Saturday at the home of Miss Hale. The afternoon was devoted to the first half of the general topic, "Women in Art." Mrs. Brown had the first paper of the afternoon, her interesting subject being "Women Sculptors (American)," giving a very interesting presentation. It was learned from this paper, that women as sculptors particularly American women, are fast coming to the front specializing in the reproduction of children, singly and in groups. Harriet Hofer was spoken of as one whose figures of children were fine. Janet Scudder has made herself famous by her fountains, in which childish figures are the most prominent. Probably the most noted woman sculptor mentioned was Evelyn Beatrice Longman, whose panels at the Annapolis Naval Academy and whose doors at Wellesley College have made her famous. She does practically all of her own work, only occasionally permitting the rough outline work to be done by any but her own hands and chisel. To Ethel Frances Mundy belongs the honor of having revived the almost lost art of "wax painting."

Miss Mundy, after many efforts has succeeded in finding a wax that will stand moderate degree of heat or cold, and also which shows exquisite colorings. As this "painting" is really in relief, and much of her work is that of children's heads, it is said to be indeed exquisite. Miss Huber had the second paper her topic being, "Wives as the Old Master Saw Them." Among the "Old Masters" considered by Miss Huber were Raphael, Rubens, Van Dyke, Rembrandt, Rosetti, and Andrea del Sarto. With the exception of the latter, who was indeed unfortunate in his choice of the lady of his heart, so far as his own happiness was concerned, as she was cruelly selfish the great artists mentioned were happily married, and found in their wives the inspiration for much of the best of their work. In a number of instances these wives were the models for the most celebrated of the "Madonnas."

This exceedingly instructive and entertaining paper was brought to a close with excellent description of some of these "wives," and their home lives. After the customary delightful social hour, the Coterie adjourned to meet next time with Miss Fuller.

A solution of salts of lemon and warm water will remove iron mold from linen. The article should be well rinsed afterward in clean water and allowed to dry.

DAY'S DOINGS IN CONGRESS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Jan. 10.—House and senate met at noon.

House judiciary committee gave Representative Buchanan more time to amplify his impeachment charges against H. Snowden Marshall, New York federal district attorney.

House naval committee continued examination of Rear Admiral Stanford.

House military committee told by General Scott, chief of the army general staff, that United States needs army of 2,000,000.

House agricultural committee considered agricultural appropriation bill.

House labor committee heard delegation opposing federal child labor legislation.

House post office committee continued consideration of post office appropriation bill.

House passed various bills authorizing construction of bridges over rivers in federal jurisdiction.

Senator Gore introduced resolutions to stop British interference with United States commerce.

Senate laid over the "Susan B. Anthony amendment" suffrage resolution favorably reported Saturday.

Senator Fall reopened Panama Canal tolls controversy.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

A. C. Longyear, the architect, has returned from a visit to New York city.

Mrs. Julia Durham is spending a few days with friends in Schenectady.

Miss Curry of Highland avenue is recovering from an attack of the grip.

Supervisor A. W. Thompson is confined to his home on West Chester street with an attack of the grip.

James L. Rowe, a salesman for C. S. Wood, is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a ten pound boy at his home, at 14 Elmendorf street.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Dorbert and Miss Pearl Cook of Poughkeepsie were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kelsch, No. 105 Hunter street, on Sunday.

Miss Hilda Kolts of Garden street has returned to her home from a three weeks' trip through the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan. During the holidays Miss Kolts was the guest of her brother, J. Henry Kolts, at Pittsburgh.

J. B. Van Demark of Broadway leaves tonight for Boston, Mass., where he had been engaged to superintend the construction of a large ditch in the conduit of one of the surrounding towns. It is a big job on account of the amount of water and soft bottom present.

FATHER GLAVOS.

QUIETS PASSENGERS ON SINKING VESSEL BY PRAYER.
New York, Jan. 10.—To Father Glavos, a Greek Catholic priest of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is given the credit for having prevented a panic aboard the Greek liner Thessaloniki, which for more than two weeks floated about on the Atlantic in an almost sinking condition.

All the passengers aboard the Thessaloniki, with the exception of one, were Greek Catholics. In the midst of a storm the vessel sprang a leak and the engines were stopped. The hold began to fill with water, and the 177 passengers became frightened. Father Glavos, who was returning to this country after a visit to his native land, appealed to the religious nature of the passengers and, erecting an altar in the steerage held a prayer service. Almost continuously the priest worked with his people, as a shepherd works with his flock, quieting them, praying with them and comforting them. Father Glavos aided the officers in persuading some of the passengers to man the pumps and help the crew repair the leaks. With the passengers he was finally transferred to the liner Patris, after it became evident that the Thessaloniki could not make port.

Pineapple Dinner From Soup to Poem.
From the first course until the last pineapple was intermingled in the luncheon. First came pineapple soup. There was a goodly portion of pineapple fritters, and pineapple ice, and the tables were decorated with pineapple cans and real pineapples. In addition to the pineapple speeches and pineapple dishes there was a pineapple poem read by James D. Dole.—Honolulu Star Bulletin.

Likely to Go Hungry.

The week of prayer will be continued this week in the Methodist Church. This evening the Rev. George Cranston, pastor of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, will preach the sermon and all members of the church and congregation are urged to be present at these very helpful meetings.

The dates for Regents' examinations to be held in Port Ewen public school No. 13 are as follows: Monday, January 17, 1:15 p. m., elementary English; Tuesday, January 18, 9:15 a. m., arithmetic; Tuesday, January 18, 1:15 p. m., spelling; Wednesday, January 19, 9:15 a. m., geography; Wednesday, January 19, 1:15 p. m., elementary United States history with civics.

Mr. and Mrs. William Atkins of Weehawken, N. J., spent a few days with Mr. Atkins's brother, Peter Atkins, and family on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt N. Winfield and daughter, Aida, of Ulster Park were guests of Mrs. Winfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Neher, on Bay and street.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. John Lynn on Hamilton street.

Cazlyn Bookhout is ill with grip at the Methodist parsonage.

Leslie Foote is ill at his home on Hamilton street. Dr. G. W. Ross is attending him.

Elmer E. Hutchings of Broadway, who has been ill of grip, is improving.

Dr. George Barber, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, Kingston, will have charge of the week of prayer service in the Methodist Church Tuesday evening.

A meeting of the Sunday school board of the Methodist Church will be held Wednesday evening after the prayer service.

The Brotherhood of the Reformed Church will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, in the Sunday school room, at 8:30 o'clock, immediately after prayer meeting.

Albany Avenue Baptist Church.

Sunday, January 23rd, will be observed by the churches in Kingston generally as go-to-church Sunday. Everybody, young and old, saint and sinner, believer and unbeliever, is requested and invited to attend some church service on that day, both morning and evening.

The annual corporate meeting of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church for the election of trustees will be held on Thursday evening, January 20th, at 7 o'clock. Three trustees are to be elected to succeed H. R. Brigham, E. P. Snyder and Dr. N. F. Hill, whose terms of office expire.

Education Pays.

Education pays, even when applied to the ordinary and commonplace pursuits. Girard in the Philadelphia Ledger cites some facts to prove the truth of the proposition: "Education has brought forth a hen in Delaware which may rival in fame the 'Blue Hen' from which the state derived its nickname. She has laid in a year more eggs than a plebeian pullet will put in a nest in a lifetime. Education took a prize at the recent Berks county fair. One tree, properly and carefully nurtured, produced this season 100 bushels of apples. It reads like one of Baron Munchausen's tallest tales, but it is true. Education in Chester county got an equivalent of almost four pounds of butter daily from a cow for an entire year. The Canadian government is just now peddling from a railroad train a new kind of education. Experts are traveling around at public expense to show farmers how to kill and dress their poultry so that it will command a much larger price in market. Other experts are showing Canadian farmers how to fatten poultry in eighteen days with the best results that can be measured by Canadian currency. Yes, sirree, Education has enough money in its pockets to lure ignorance to do all its chores."

Bookkeeper's Accounts Short?

Robert Nelson, for five years a bookkeeper in a bottling works in Newburgh, was arrested Saturday on a grand larceny charge. The complainant, James E. Magourty, thinks Nelson's pecuniary may run to more than $1,500.

Bar Officials as Builders.

Newburgh's new city government has barred the bid of the W. R. Perkins Company for city supplies because the head of the firm, W. R. Perkins, is a councilman under the new charter.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

Waist 1486: Skirt 1493—A Very Attractive Combination.

This portrays Ladies' Skirt Pattern 1486, and Ladies' Skirt Pattern 1493. As here shown the skirt was developed in checked suitings, and the waist in cream white Georgette crepe. The skirt is a gored model with plaited side sections. The waist has several new style features. The neck is finished with a Quaker collar. The sleeve in bishop style has a wrist frill below tiny upright tucks. The waist is also nice for baliste, satin, silk, flannel, linen or madras. The skirt could be developed in voile, serge, broad cloth, velveteen or corduroy. The Waist Pattern 1486 is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 3 yards of 36 inch material for a 36 size. The Skirt 1493 is cut in 8 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for a 24 inch size, which measures about 3 2/3 yards at the foot.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps at The Freeman Pattern Department. Be sure to state size wanted.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JAN. 10, 1916.

Certain mouthpieces of the anti-protectionists have ridiculed the theory that our markets are in danger of being flooded with cheap foreign goods at the close of the war. They argue that the belligerent countries are so busy supplying their own needs that they have no time to manufacture anything for export. In their own minds they imagine that they know more about the situation than Herbert M. Gutman, director of the Dresden Bank, Berlin, who has just published an article from which we quote this paragraph:

After the war there will be in our country large quantities of goods ready for shipment and sale abroad, and large claims due abroad in favor of Germany and the proceeds of the sales of securities held by Germany and representing, particularly as far as bonds and stocks in hostile countries are concerned, a value of many millions, which will considerably contribute to support our rate of exchange. Our rate will secure a considerable improvement and will soon be normal again.

Obviously, Herr Gutman was writing for the purpose of encouraging his own countrymen, overlooking the fact that he was incidentally issuing a warning to the United States. There is a sort of fictitious prosperity in this country just now, owing principally to the big traffic in war munitions, but the moment peace comes and stops that line of trade, there is almost sure to be a flattening out of industrial activity. If, on top of this, foreign goods are dumped here by hundreds of shiploads, there is bound to be an era of unemployment and suffering. The apparent blindness of our Government to this prospect is disheartening.

A split verdict, acquitting six of the former directors and disagreeing as to five others, is the outcome of the trial of the eleven former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. After weeks of weary court routine in which the only relief to the mass of technical testimony was furnished by the sprightly revelations of Charles S. Mellen, the jury was unable to come to an agreement as to the collective fate of the eleven defendants. Hence, the court's suggestion that the men at bar be dealt with as individuals was plainly the only means to a verdict. Statistics of the trial are simply stupendous. With the cost estimated at three-quarters of a million dollars and more than 2,000,000 words in the record together with 2,000 exhibits, it is worthy of remark that the jury system responded to this tremendous test so well as the outcome shows. Digestion of such a mass of evidence as that offered in this trial is plainly far beyond the ordinary capacity of laymen; but complaint on this score is not likely to be heard from any of the New Haven defendants.

Great as may be the eventual results under commission government even its strongest advocates cannot refrain from a smile at the business which marked its inauguration in New York State. For example, Buffalo saw its five commissioners get into a row which would have done credit to the worst exhibition under the old aldermanic system. One leading commissioner left this initial session in high temper, threatening to resign and leaving his four colleagues deadlocked on appointments of a chief of police and other departmental heads. Net result was the granting of one fish license. This would seem to be putting the "fish" in efficiency with a vengeance. In Niagara Falls, a genial Republican commission dictated appointments of similar political faith to the discomfiture of ousted Democrats. In Newburgh, use of the by-product from the city stables instead of purchased fertilizer is one economy suggested and the planting of shade trees—an innocent and desirable move. Captious critics may intimate that the trees so planted will some day serve as tall timbers which city manager systems would find available for refuge but we feel that eventually the system will operate successfully. It is to laugh though, when we recall the extravagant claims made for the new form which was to make city government satisfactory "in the twinkling of an eye."

Despite conclusions of former Sheriff Grifenhagen of New York county, who believes that the emoluments of that office could be cut $50,000 and still leave a living wage equal to the salary of a Public Service Commissioner, it is extremely unlikely that the legislature will listen to the suggestion. The present sheriff of New York, Al Smith, was for years Democratic leader in the Assembly, and no matter how strong the pressure for economy on upstate members, the liberal fees headed in Sheriff Smith's direction are not likely to be cut off by his erstwhile associates at the capitol. Beyond bearing a title, filling an extensive patronage list and ever lightening responsibilities, a metropolitan sheriff has comparatively unimportant duties, out of all proportion to the salary and fees paid. Sentiment for a wholesome cut therein is general save among the politicians who see no necessity for disturbing a competent fellow craftsman in the enjoyment of a juicy political plum. Whether or not there is honor among thieves, there appears to be a well-observed, even though unwritten, code of etiquette between active members of political parties. That is one reason why it is so hard to reduce taxes.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was congratulated at a Denver reception because, on learning that his Colorado properties had a deficit for the year of $400,000, he merely said that he would proceed with his well-fare work on a larger scale than ever.

"Well, you see," said Mr. Rockefeller, in response to these congratulations, "we are trying to put a new spirit into the relations of employer and employee. The old selfish relations were rather—well, rather like Mrs. Smith's relations to her husband."

"Smith came home one evening and said dismally:

"Well, I've got to give up smoking. I saw the doctor today. One lung, he tells me, is quite gone."

"Oh, John," said Mrs. Smith, "can't you at least keep on till we get enough coupons for that near-seal jacket of mine?"—Denver Times.

A MISTAKE IN IDENTITY

By OSCAR COX

Having been invited to spend the week end at Seabright, on Friday afternoon, suit case in hand, I appeared at the railway station. A pale faced child poked a bunch of violets under my nose and looked an appeal to buy them. I did so, and putting them in the buttonhole of my coat I strolled toward the door through which passengers were going to the train.

"Are you Will?"

The voice came from a very pretty girl who was looking into my face inquiringly. My name is William, and it is so common for men that I was not especially surprised at being asked the question by a stranger, thinking her to have made a mistake in the person. My reply was:

"It is."

"I supposed so by the violets. Come; let us get on to the train. I have my ticket."

She slipped her arm through mine as confidently as if I belonged to her. Not knowing what to do I did nothing, but I fully intended to make her aware of her error at once.

"That last letter of Clara's," she said as we walked to the train, "decided me."

Curiosity here stepped in to take a hand. I wondered what Clara had said in the letter.

"Um," I said by way of saying nothing. But by this time we reached the car steps, and I handed the young lady in. She took a seat, and I sat down beside her. I had thus far taken no advantage of her mistake. I would let her go on a little further before heading her off. I have noticed that if a woman has anything to say she will usually say it without encouragement.

"Clara is just too lovely for anything," said the girl.

"Um."

"She has been very kind to me. When she wrote me that you had grown tired of your lonely life, that a big city like New York is of all places in the world the most desolate, that you wished she would introduce you to some girl who would make you a good wife and without the bother of a courtship, I realized that it was the same for men as for women, and while I didn't like your words—the bother of courting—I felt that in the main you were right. Then I received her letter making the arrangement for us to spend the week end with her and saying that you would meet me for this train and would wear a boutonniere of violets."

I had got the whole story in a nutshell. There was none of that shooting out in different directions like a bursting rocket, but a concise narration of facts. Just then the conductor came along taking tickets. My companion showed one for Dune, a station not quite so far as Seabright. Both tickets were taken up, and she did not see that mine was for a different station from hers. I began to explain:

"I dare say you will blame me when you have heard."

"Clara told me all about your marriage and divorce," she interrupted. "I may as well say right here that I don't consider you in the least to blame. Indeed I don't see how you could have acted otherwise."

"Why not make the break right here? I concluded to plunge."

"I am not a divorced man," I said. "I have never been married. I think you must have made a mistake. For whom have you taken me?"

She looked at me in astonishment. "Clara gave me no name except Will. She said your other name would come later if the affair proceeded."

"I am quite sure there has been a mistake. I began to tell you a few minutes ago, when you interrupted me."

"Oh, my goodness gracious!"

"Don't disturb yourself. Your secret is perfectly safe with me. But I regret that you should have fallen into the wrong hands. Is there anything I can do to right matters?"

"No, no, no."

"How do we know that if you have made a mistake Fate has not?"

The young lady was apparently at least calmed by this. At any rate, she seemed interested. I took out my card case, drew a card and, having pencilled my address on it, handed it to her, asking her to let me know how her affair with Will came out. A few moments later the train slowed up, the guard cried, "Dune!" and I handed my new found friend out of the train. She gave me an embarrassed smile at parting. I saw her enter a carriage driven by a coachman in livery and roll away.

I heard nothing more of the matter till one day I received a note signed by a name I did not recognize as among my acquaintances. As soon as I had read a few lines I knew it was from the girl who made the mistake. To keep her promise she informed me that the matter which had come to my knowledge had not materialized. She seemed much mortified at having entered upon it in the way she had.

I wrote asking permission to call and received it. I found one who had lived in affluence, but, having been reduced to want, had gone to the city to earn her living. She had so suffered from loneliness that when a friend undertook to make a match for her in a rather crude way she was tempted. She discovered that the man she was to meet did not suit her.

I found her ready to be consoled in the matter and consoled her, but not without "the bother of courting."

FALL GUYS ORGANIZE SAUGERTIES BRANCH

Waite Branch, No. 1, is its title and Saugerties folks are waiting for the Waite and Their $500.

The Waite Branch, No. 1, of the Fall Guys' Association has been organized in Saugerties and the merchants of that village would like very much to get in touch with Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Waite, the founders of the branch, who left suddenly on Sunday afternoon, taking with them $500 in perfectly good money and came to Kingston, where all trace of them was lost. Pinkerton's Detective Agency is also very anxious to get in touch with the Waite.

The formation of the Saugerties branch of the association goes back to about two weeks ago when a man and woman went to Saugerties and stopped at the Exchange Hotel, where they registered under the name of Dr. J. M. Waite and wife. They spent considerable time in getting acquainted with the residents of Saugerties and as they were both of pleasing personality, they soon made a host of friends.

They had been in Saugerties but a few days when they inserted some advertisements in the local paper. One of the advertisements was to the effect that a married couple wanted suitable furnished rooms while the other advertisement was to the effect that they would like some information concerning a family named Waite that formerly lived at Veteran, town of Saugerties. This "Waite family" were supposed to have resided in Saugerties about 1888.

Time passed and the Waite got no reply to the last advertisement regarding the "lost family" they were advertising for, but they did secure suitable furnished rooms, much to the regret of the landlady who later found that she was but one of the many who had been stung.

After spending a very happy two weeks making friends, the doctor and his wife thought that it was about time that a Fall Guys' Association should be started in the pretty village and they laid plans accordingly.

They Go Shopping.

Saturday afternoon they spent several hours after the banks had closed in shopping. This point should be borne in mind they waited until the local banks had closed for the day before they started on their shopping expedition. They visited a number of the Saugerties stores and in each store they made purchases and paid in checks. They did not work together but each one had a list of the stores and each visited one store while the other done business at the other store.

Mrs. Waite visited the large department store of Reed & Reed and there she purchased goods amounting to $55. The goods she bought were all of silk including silk waists, silk stockings and so forth and the entire amount of her purchase could be wrapped in a small package. She tendered the clerk a check for $50 and a check for $5. As the bill amounted to $55 she received back $30 in change and departed with her purchases.

Husband Was On Firing Line.

In another store she had a friendly chat with the girl who waited on her and told how her husband had been on the French front in Europe and had worked so hard that he had been given furlough which they were spending in Saugerties.

There was hardly a store in the village that the doctor and his wife did not patronize that afternoon and while purchasing goods for which they paid in checks they also left orders for other goods. For instance the doctor was very anxious to secure a Shriner's pin but the Saugerties Jewelry Store had none in stock but accepted his order and sent away for a pin of the design wanted by the physician.

Came to Kingston.

This all happened on Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon the delightful couple engaged an automobile at Van Buskirk's garage and were driven to Kingston where the doctor wanted to pay the driver of the car with a check.

"I am sorry," replied the driver, but orders are only to accept cash in all cases."

"Oh all right," responded the physician as he drew a roll "big enough to choke a horse," from his pocket and paid the driver the amount asked for.

That was the last seen of the Waite, but Saugerties merchants till are waiting for the cash that went with the Waite.

Smelled a Rat.

While competition is keen among the Saugerties merchants, yet they get together and talk business in a friendly way and it was not long before it became known that many of the merchants had accepted checks from the Waite on their shopping trip on Saturday afternoon. The merchants then began to "smell a rat" and got busy.

$500 in Phony Checks.

This morning the startling discovery was made that $500 in worthless checks were in the two banks in the village. They were all drawn on the Corn Exchange Bank of New York city. A peculiar thing about the checks was the fact that they were not in Dr. Waite's name but reported to be drawn by another physician payable to Dr. Waite and had endorsed them on the back and had tendered them to the merchants in payment.

Pinkerton Wants Them.

It did not take much time for the local merchants as well as the banks to get the Corn Exchange Bank on the telephone and the checks were "O. ### Some Who Were Stung.

A list of those who were stung by the Waite would make a compilation for a business directory of Saugerties. They are:

Henry Cox, shoemaker.
Meyer Hyman, clothier.
Meyer Brothers, drug store.
Benjamin Fellows, shoe dealer.
M. M. Schoenfeld, jeweler and clothier.
Fred T. Lewis, cigar manufacturer.

Saugerties Jewelry Store.
And last but not least Mrs. James Jewell, with whom the Waite boarded, and who they presented with a check for $30 when they left in payment of their board.

GRIP EPIDEMIC AMONG CHILDREN

The prevailing grip epidemic is making itself felt among the babies of Kingston, particularly among children who have suffered from lack of nourishing food because family finances have not permitted them to be supplied with what they needed.

The Bureau of Social Service in its investigations has found a number of cases where babies were suffering from lack of nourishment and have become affected by the grip. What is needed at the present time is condensed milk for the babies, or money with which to purchase it. Condensed milk is more readily handled for such cases, it does not become stale or spoil, and greater care can be used in supplying it as needed than with ordinary milk.

Bed clothing is also needed for distribution in families where sickness prevails, and such clothing should be clean and warm. In several cases, child-patients have had relapses through lack of sufficient bed clothing, and where patients are ill in bed it is most necessary to see that they are kept warm and comfortable if medicine is to accomplish results in bringing about their cure.

Gifts of money for condensed milk, and also gifts of bed clothing will be most acceptable by the Bureau of Social Service. Such gifts may be sent to the Municipal Building on East O'Reilly street, and donors may communicate with Mrs. MacMillan at that place by telephone, the call being 1586.

STRIKE RIOT AT NIAGARA FALLS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Two thousand strikers and sympathizers attacked plant No. 1 of the Aluminum Company of America, the largest aluminum plant in the world. Hurry calls for police reserves brought out several hundred men. Within a few minutes after their arrival a pitched battle was in progress, the strikers hurling stones and clubs at the officers. Drawing their pistols and sticks the officers fired into the air and began clubbing the leaders of the mob until the rioters soon retreated. Many suffered cut scalps. When a semblance of order was secured it was announced to the strikers, through an interpreter, that the management of the plant would confer with their leaders. The consultation is now in progress. The strikers ask thirty cents a day increase. The company offers ten cents a day increase.

New Idea in Concrete Work.

A concrete pile has recently been invented which possesses important advantages over the kind formerly used. It is driven by boring its hole with a stream of water ejected with considerable force at its point. Water at a pressure of 250 pounds is forced through the iron pipe forming the core of the pile, cutting a hole as the pile descends. The water dissolves earth and sand and thrusts rocks aside.

Foods Rich in Proteids.

The reason why all forms of meat, cheese and eggs form so satisfying a diet is not because they are rich in calories but because they are rich in proteids. In order to be properly nourished, one may paraphrase the famous proverb, "Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves," and make it read, "Take care of the proteid and the calories will take care of themselves."

Hard to Eradicate Piles.

A neat of wasps will kill from 3,000 to 4,000 flies a day, but the one or two they may miss will breed about 23,456, 789 more before the avengers can get back on the job next morning.

Auction-Purchase Sale of Rugs

By La Racontense.

In some instances the wide hoop effect which is so typical of the season, is featured with a bougiant drape. This proves an odd and interesting combination. This girlish and attractive dance gown, fashioned in pale blue faille classique, is designed to effect a bougiant tunic, over a wide drop skirt. The bodice has wing sleeves of silver lace.

Tough Luck.

An old Cheshire woman called to her lord and master, "Jabez, will 't'oom 't' tha' baggin?" "Baggin" in Cheshire means dinner.

"What's use? Ah canna foind my old weskut."

"Well, it's warm enough. Tha can oyt wout th' old weskut."

"Nay, that Ah canna. Ah've left my false teeth i' t' pockets."

"Then tha'll ha' to starve. Ah gave that weskut to t' ragman this morn'ing."

This Happened in Boston.

Teacher—Emerson, what is "spilling the beans?"

Emerson—Slang, ma'am, and vicious slang at that.

Teacher—I mean can you give me the definition of it?

Emerson—Yes, ma'am. "Spilling the beans" in its best colloquial sense is the unpremeditated extemporaneous promulgating of information concerning which one should have been much more reticently inclined. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Word "Gent."

At one time the word "gent" was a reputable term for general use. A respectable writer in 1594 tells of "a supper to divers gentlemen of the Gray's Inn for the great amitie between them and the Middle Temple gents." The diarist Evelyn speaks of the "noise and tumult occasioned by three or four wild gents in drink." Soon after Queen Victoria's accession "gents" became vulgar. Thackeray speaks of it in 1842 as an "affectionate diminutive much in use among commercial persons."

Spoiled the Solemnity.

Joseph H. Choate when ambassador to the court of St. James and Mark Twain were together in St. George's chapel, London, one hot day, both seemingly sobered by the solemnity of the place.

"What an awful thing it is!" Twain began in a whisper.

Mr. Choate leaned closer to catch some ponderously sad expression from the humorist.

"What an awful thing it is," Twain repeated, "to be shut up in a place where one cannot smoke!"

And Elia Was Only Seven.

"Don't you think little Elia gets more and more like me?"

"Certainly! Soon we shan't be able to distinguish the difference between you. She grows older, and you grow younger."—Flegende Blaetter.

GEN. SCOTT WANTS BIG ARMY AT LESS PAY

Washington, Jan. 10.—Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of the general staff of the United States army, today told the house committee on military affairs that the United States should have an army of a million or two million men, adequately equipped, to be raised by compulsory military service. The general's statement, made during the hearing on the army reorganization bill, created a mild sensation among members of the committee.

Gen. Scott said the present regular army would compare favorably in quality and efficiency with any European army. He said, however, that the European nations kept large armies on the same expenditures now made by the United States. With compulsory military service, he said, the United States could cut down the rate of pay of its soldiers and maintain a great army for the same amount now expended on a small army.

The chief of staff said that he believed the short period of "intensive training" under the continental army plan would make better soldiers than the training now given in the militia. He declared he believed both organizations could be developed side by side.

In reply to Rep. Kahn the general said that he believed two years' service would be the least that would fit men for the reserve.

Gen. Scott in reply to questions by the committee as to why the United States needed 2,000,000 men said they were needed to protect the country against invasion from Europe.

"But two millions of men are too many," objected Rep. Anthony (Texas).

"Two millions of men do not frighten me," declared Gen. Scott. "I would like to inform you gentlemen that Austria could land 72,000 men on her first expedition and 103,000 on her second. The rest of the European nations could land as many or more in the same way."

REAL INDIAN AT BOYS' HOBBY SHOW

Red Fox James, the Indian who spoke at the Y. M. C. A. recently, will be one of the star attractions and will have charge of the Indian Reservation where he will exhibit a number of relics gathered through the years by him and also give an exhibition of lasso throwing as practiced by the Indians as well as the cowboys, at the Boys' Hobby Show to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on February 22 and 23.

A number of other attractions are also being booked and there will be something doing throughout the entire building. In the auditorium a first class minstrel show will be given. "Gus" Bonesteel has charge of the arrangements for the show which is a sure indication that it will be good. Any boy desiring to sing in the large chorus is urged to get in touch with Mr. Bonesteel as soon as possible as rehearsals will shortly be started. The show promises to be one of the best minstrels ever pulled off at the association.

Exhibits for the hobby show should be registered as soon as possible. Already two exhibitors have registered. Any boy in the city may enter his hobby at the show. Full details may be secured of Mr. Bonesteel or Mr. Every at the association office.

Dutch Arms at 8:30.

On account of the cottage prayer meeting which will be held Tuesday evening, the Dutch Arms entertainment at the Fair Street Reformed Church will not begin until 8:30 o'clock, after the prayer meetings are concluded. Tuesday night's entertainment will be furnished by Pitt Parker, a famous cartoonist, whose work has been well known for a number of years. Mr. Parker's work is in black and white and also in colors.

FIRE DESTROYING TORONTO STATION

By Telegram to The Freeman
Toronto, Ont., Jan. 10.—Fire started early this afternoon in the union railroad station and the entire structure is doomed.

Guests from all adjoining hotels are being taken to places of safety.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The employees of Fessenden's Shirt Factory, about eighty in number, enjoyed a dance at the factory Saturday evening. Miss Ellen Hasbrouck gave several charming and graceful solo dances. During the evening refreshments were served.

Satisfying Music.

There will be a peculiarly satisfying element in the concert to be given by Annie Louise David, harpist, and John Barnes Wells, tenor (second Dodge Subscription concert) at the High School Building on Wednesday evening of this week. The modern harp makes possible a varied program of music that is especially pleasing to listen to, and certainly there is no instrument which calls for such grace of motion and has such artistic possibilities as does the harp. It is almost as much of a pleasure to see Mrs. David play as it is to hear her. As for John Barnes Wells, he first appeals to his audience as being a man a man whom other men would gladly know, not just a peculiar personality with a wonderful instrument in its throat. In other words, Mr. Wells has been characterized as a peculiarly human tenor, and so appealing is this quality (in addition to his artistic gifts) that almost without exception his appearance before any audience means a return engagement. It has been well said of him that "he does not sing for the exploitation of a beautiful voice, but rather he uses his wonderful voice to fill the songs he sings with a wealth of beauty and feeling." Undoubtedly the sale of tickets for this single concert will be large.

The Coterie.

The Coterie held its "New Year's" meeting on Saturday at the home of Miss Hale. The afternoon was devoted to the first half of the general topic, "Women in Art." Mrs. Brown had the first paper of the afternoon, her interesting subject being "Women Sculptors (American)." Giving a very interesting presentation. It was learned from this paper, that women as sculptors particularly American women, are fast coming to the front specializing in the reproduction of children singly and in groups. Harriet Hofer was spoken of one whose figures of children were fine. Janet Scudder has made herself famous by her fountains, in which childish figures are the most prominent. Probably the most noted woman sculptor mentioned was Evelyn Beatrice Longman, whose panels at the Annapolis Naval Academy and whose doors at Wellesley College have made her famous. She uses practically all of her own work, only occasionally permitting the rough outline work to be done by any but her own hands and chisel. To Ethel Frances Mundy belongs the honor of having revived the almost lost art of "wax painting." Miss Mundy, after many efforts has succeeded in finding a wax that will stand moderate degree of heat or cold, and also which shows exquisite colorings. As this "painting" is really in relief, and much of her work is that of children's heads, it is said to be indeed exquisite. Miss Huber had the second paper her topic being, "Wives as the Old Masters Saw Them." Among the "Old Masters" considered by Miss Huber were Raphael, Rubens, Van Dyke, Rembrandt, Rossetti, and Andrea del Sarto. With the exception of the latter, who was indeed unfortunate in his choice of the lady of his heart, so far as his own happiness was concerned, as she was cruelly selfish the great artists mentioned were happily married, and found in their wives the inspiration for much of the best of their work. In a number of instances these wives were the models for the most celebrated of the "Madonnas." This exceedingly instructive and entertaining paper was brought to a close with excellent description of some of these "wives" and their home lives. After the customary delightful social hour, the Coterie adjourned to meet next time with Miss Fuller.

DAY'S DOINGS IN CONGRESS

By Telegram to The Freeman
Washington, Jan. 10.—House and senate met at noon.

House judiciary committee gave Representative Buchanan more time to amplify his impeachment charges against H. Snowden Marshall, New York federal district attorney.

House naval committee continued examination of Rear Admiral Standford.

House military committee told by General Scott, chief of the army general staff, that United States needs army of 2,000,000.

House agricultural committee considered agricultural appropriation bill.

House labor committee heard declaration opposing federal child labor legislation.

House post office committee continued consideration of post office appropriation bill.

House passed various bills authorizing construction of bridges over rivers in federal jurisdiction.

Senator Gore introduced resolutions to stop British interference with United States commerce.

Senate laid over the "Susan B. Anthony amendment" suffrage resolution favorably reported Saturday.

Senator Fall reopened Panama Canal tolls controversy.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

A. C. Longyear, the architect, has returned from a visit to New York city.

Mrs. Julia Durham is spending a few days with friends in Schenectady.

Miss Curry of Highland avenue is recovering from an attack of the grip.

Supervisor A. W. Thompson is confined to his home on West Chester street with an attack of the grip.

James L. Rowe, a salesman for C. S. Wood, is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a ten pound boy at his home, at 14 Elmendorf street.

Mrs. and Mr. F. Dorbert and Miss Pearl Cook of Poughkeepsie were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kelsch, No. 105 Hunter street, on Sunday.

Miss Hilda Kolts of Garden street has returned to her home from a three weeks' trip through the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan. During the holidays Miss Kolts was the guest of her brother, J. Henry Kolts, at Pittsburgh.

J. B. Van Demark of Broadway leaves tonight for Boston, Mass., where he had been engaged to superintend the construction of a large ditch in the conduit of one of the surrounding towns. It is a big job on account of the amount of water and soft bottom present.

FATHER GLAVOS.

QUIET PASSENGERS ON SINKING VESSEL BY PRAYER.
New York, Jan. 10.—To Father Glavos, a Greek Catholic priest of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is given the credit for having prevented a panic aboard the Greek liner Thessaloniki, which for more than two weeks floated about on the Atlantic in an almost sinking condition.

All the passengers aboard the Thessaloniki, with the exception of one, were Greek Catholics. In the midst of a storm the vessel sprang a leak and the engines were stopped. The hold began to fill with water, and the 177 passengers became frightened. Father Glavos, who was returning to this country after a visit to his native land, appealed to the religious nature of the passengers and, erecting an altar in the steerage held a prayer service. Almost continuously the priest worked with his people, as a shepherd works with his flock, quieting them, praying with them and comforting them. Father Glavos aided the officers in persuading some of the passengers to man the pumps and help the crew repair the leaks. With the passengers he was finally transferred to the liner Paris, after it became evident that the Thessaloniki could not make port.

Pineapple Dinner From Soup to Poem.
From the first course until the last pineapple was intermingled in the luncheon. First came pineapple soup. There was a goodly portion of pineapple fritters, and pineapple ice, and the tables were decorated with pineapple cans and real pineapples. In addition to the pineapple speeches and pineapple dishes there was a pineapple poem read by James D. Dole.—Honolulu Star Bulletin.

Likely to Go Hungry.
An old Cheshire woman called to her lord and master "Jabez! Will t'oom t' the baggin?" "Baggin" in Cheshire means dinner. "What's use? Ah canna find my old wesket." "Well, it's warm enough. Fool Proclaims Himself.
A fool may be known by six things: anger, without cause; speech, without profit; change, without progress; inquiry, without object; putting trust in a stranger; and mistaking foes for friends.—Arabian Proverb.

Forgiveness Must Be Personal.
Forgiveness is the most necessary and proper work of every man; for, though, when I do not a just thing, or a charitable, or a wise, another man may do it for me, yet no man can forgive my enemy but myself.—Lord Herbert.

Cure for Hiccoughs.
Sit erect and inflate the lungs fully. Then, retaining the breath, bend forward slowly until the chest meets the knees. After slowly rising again to the erect position, slowly exhale the breath. Repeat a second time and the hiccoughs will stop.

Girls' Swimming Classes.
There was a good attendance at the girls' classes at the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday afternoon but it is hoped that more will attend themselves of this excellent opportunity which has been offered the girls and women of the city to enjoy the benefits of the association. A competent swimming teacher has been engaged to instruct the girls in the nautical art without any extra charge. She is Mrs. Sulzer of South Wall street, who has had a wide experience as instructor in the baths of New York city. This addition of a competent swimming teacher should be a big drawing card for ladies' day. Swimming is one of the most healthy of sports and to know even the simplest strokes is a valuable knowledge, one that has saved many a woman's life from a watery grave. As stated in a previous article in the Freeman, the fee for the season is the same as last year, $1.50, but there will be no reduction for those who wish to enter later in the year. Women and girls wishing to join should enter the classes as soon as possible in order to derive all the benefits that a membership in the classes gives.

Acme Five Defeated.
The Acme Five of this city traveled to East Kingston on Saturday night and were defeated in a fast basketball game by a score of 19 to 12. The game was not only fast but at times rough. C. Schriever was the life of the game. Moxham, who played forward for the Acmes, held his man scoreless in the first half but the five minutes he played in the second half resulted in a number of "personal fouls" being called on him by the referee. While trying to block a pass Moxham and M. Watzka became entangled in each others feet and Moxham fell to the floor with Watzka on top of him. The referee called time out and announced that he disqualified Moxham and ordered him from the game. The local five by the defeat to the fact that they had to play the remaining period with but four men. The East Kingston players were Redden, W. Watzka, forwards, Henneberry, center, and J. Watzka and V. Redden, guards, while the Acme players were Moxham and H. Sills, forwards, J. Sills, center, and C. C. Schriever and Palisi, guards.

Painless Extractions

During the year 1915 the Cady Dental Offices in Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Newburgh and Middletown performed over ten thousand extractions. These operations were painless. Local Anesthetics were used in the majority of cases but nitrous-oxide gas in a few. This wonderful record should make a deep impression on those who have teeth which require extraction and desire to have the operation done painlessly.

A LOST PICTURE PLAY

It Turned Up Unexpectedly

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

I am the manager of a moving picture studio. What is a manager of a movie studio? Only he who has been such knows. Success or failure depends upon him.

If one desires to get an idea of the workings of the photographing of plays let him visit a studio while the work is going on. He sees men, women and children lounging about waiting their turn to enact their parts. Some are arranged before the camera. A court scene, a love part, a murder, anything, everything that pertains to civilized, even savage life, on land, on the water, in the air, is put on the films before the wondering beholder. A woman is gazing in abandon while waiting to be a princess before the camera. A peasant girl is complaining that she is "tired to death"—for the work is dreadfully wearying—and she must in a few minutes be skipping about as happy as a newly fledged bird. This is behind the scenes of the movies.

How different from the picture passing smoothly before the eyes of an audience seated in comfortable chairs in the theater!

It is this multiplication of matters needing attention that leads managers of studios to hedge themselves in behind closed doors and forbidden to any one until the name has been sent in on a slip of paper stating the nature of the caller's business. And if some unknown person desires to see him to submit a picture play he sends word to leave it and it will be examined. It then goes on to the file of hundreds of other plays to take its turn and (usually) be returned after weary waiting on the part of the author.

Having given, I trust, the reader some faint idea of my multifarious duties I will tell my story.

One morning when I sat down to my desk, feeling somewhat rested from the work of the day before, there came a call at the telephone. Taking up the receiver, I listened. The voice that came over the wire was that of a woman and was soft and sweet.

"Is this Mr. Collamore?"

"Yes; I'm Mr. Collamore."

"I've just finished a picture play, and I would like to have a few minutes' conversation with you about it."

"Leave it in the office, or send it by mail, and it will receive attention."

"Thank you very much. Goodbye."

I was surprised at being able to throw the party off so easily and congratulated myself at having done so; then turned to my daily routine. The next morning there was another call at the phone.

"Mr. Collamore, I have some more information to give you about that matter of which we were talking yesterday and will call on you at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Goodbye."

"Who are you, please?"

"Miss Weatherby."

Hearing a click I knew there was no use trying to find out who Miss Weatherby was. I did not remember any conversation with any such person, but I concluded that I had neglected to take down the name. Inasmuch as she had been admitted and had talked with me, what she had to communicate must be of some importance. At any rate, when she was announced in the afternoon I gave an order for her admittance. A very pretty young woman was ushered in, who seated herself in the chair beside my desk with as much sang froid as if she had a right to remain there as long as she chose.

"Let me see," I said to her. "What was the business we were discussing yesterday morning? I don't quite recall it."

"I told you that I had a picture play."

Now I knew who Miss Weatherby was. Unable to get at me in the regular way, she had resorted to the telephone to make an appointment—a very shrewd device. However, she had succeeded in passing my guard and there was nothing to do but listen to what she had to say. This was brief and to the point. She asked me to read her scenario myself. I told her that it was impossible for me to read all the plays that came into the studio, to which she replied that she did not wish me to read all the plays, she would be satisfied if I would read hers. She would not leave without the promise, and I was obliged to give it. Then she handed me her manuscript and departed without a word.

It was evident that the girl was not only bright, but had the good sense to understand that her play would stand by itself and she need not bore me by telling about its strong points. I am a man of my word and determined to keep my pledge to her. I put the scenario in my pocket, intending to glance over it on my way home. I live in a suburb and go home by rail. When on the train I would have abundant opportunity to do so.

That evening when I went home I was loaded down—a common condition of commuters—with parcels. On the train I took out the scenario and was about to begin its perusal when a boy came along with the evening papers. I bought one and, seeing a startling announcement of a victory in the great European war, laid the manuscript down beside me on the Righteous Indignation.

"Wud yez luk at that?" exclaimed Mrs. O'Toole in just indignation. "Washin' an' ironin' done. Shure, she ain't wan bit better than Olam. Ol' got me washin' an' ironin' done, too, but yez don't see me hangin' out no signs braggin' about it."

Humor Used Up.

"You must realize that it is time to talk seriously to your constituents," "I suppose so," replied Senator Sordghum. "By this time they've heard about all the funny stories there are."

seat. Becoming absorbed in the news, I read the paper till we reached my station and, forgetting all about the scenario, left it in the seat. Not till after dinner did I remember it and my promise to read it.

There is a rule of the railroad that all articles left in trains should be turned in at the nearest terminal, and I hoped to recover the play the next day when I went into the city. It had not been left at the lost article office. I was worried. I called again to inquire for it the next day and was still disappointed. I gave up all hope of recovering it and began to consider devices by which I might best get out of the scrape with Miss Weatherby.

I had not promised to read the play within any given time, so there was no hurry in doing anything about the matter. I was in hope that an address was written on the manuscript and it would be sent back to the author, who would turn it in again to me. But when a week passed I gave up this hope.

I could now do nothing but confess the loss to Miss Weatherby and indemnify her. But I was very busy, as usual, and concluded to wait for her to put in an appearance, when I would be very sweet to her with a view to be let down as lightly as possible. I was ready to pay her a fair price for the time she would spend in making a duplicate copy of the manuscript.

It was about ten days after the loss that I was called up on the phone by Miss Weatherby, who asked in her sweet voice if I had passed upon her play. I responded that I had not. This was as far as I got when she interrupted me, saying that she was aware that I was a very busy man. Indeed, she wondered that I had not broken down long ago. Then, saying that it would be criminal for her to take up my time about her small matter, she hung up the receiver, and I was shut off.

I did not know whether to feel glad or sorry at this repulse. I would have preferred to make my confession and have the suspense ended. And yet the delay might bring forth some development—the manuscript might turn up; something might happen either to me or the young lady to render an explanation unnecessary. I think that I would almost have been willing to break my leg if while I was laid up the difficulty could be removed.

I did not hear from Miss Weatherby for some time after she had called me up on the phone. A new play that had been hawked about among film manufacturers was meeting with great success, and I was interested in making the acquaintance of the author and getting some of his work. But the name of the writer was not given, and I failed to find out who he was. It was rumored that the play had been written for the actress who played the principal part, a lady who had made a reputation on the stage—Helen Markland, though this was her stage name. I had never seen Miss Markland, having been so busy that I had to work nights, and tried to get an evening to attend the theater when she was on the screen, but thus far had failed.

The next time Miss Weatherby called me up to inquire about her play she asked me if I had seen Helen Markland in her new play. I told her that I had not, but was trying to get an opportunity to do so, whereupon she went into ecstasies over the play and the actress. "I'm going tomorrow night to see her," she added. "I wish you would be my escort."

Here was an opportunity to break the news of my carelessness under great advantage. I knew that for one in my position to condescend to escort one of the multitude of women ambitious to achieve a reputation as a playwright would be considered a great honor. I told Miss Weatherby that I would be delighted to escort her in good time for the first performance. She replied that she should expect me to criticize the play, giving her the benefit of my knowledge in such matters, that she might utilize it in improvements in the scenario in my possession. I winced at this, but said nothing.

The next evening I called for Miss Weatherby in a carriage. She introduced me to her mother, who was to go with me to the play. We were a little ahead of the main feature, during which interval I was delighted with my companion, who chatted charmingly. She seemed in the best of spirits and very proud of having secured the escort of a manager of a studio. When the main play came on she ceased to talk and sat with an expectancy upon her face such as she might have shown were she personally interested in the play about to be produced.

A few minutes after the opening the heroine came on the screen. I started. To my astonishment, she might have been Miss Weatherby's twin sister. A photograph has certain differences from its original, and I was not quite sure of the resemblance. I turned toward my companion and saw an amused smile on her lips.

Then I knew that Miss Weatherby and Helen Markland were the same person.

There is little more to my story. When Miss Weatherby left her scenario with me she was unknown in the picture field, though she had attained some reputation as an actress under the name of Helen Markland. The scenario that I had left in the train bore her address and was returned to her. She succeeded in getting it accepted by another manufacturer, with herself in the title role.

The play and the leading lady were delightful.

Miss Weatherby and I became fast friends, and I have since manufactured several of her plays.

Kingston, N. Y., Jan. 10, 1916.

Certain mouthpieces of the anti-protectionists have ridiculed the theory that our markets are in danger of being flooded with cheap foreign goods at the close of the war. They argue that the belligerent countries are so busy supplying their own needs that they have no time to manufacture anything for export. In their own minds they imagine that they know more about the situation than Herbert M. Gutman, director of the Hershey Bank, Berlin, who has just published an article from which we quote this paragraph:

After the war there will be in our country large quantities of goods ready for shipment and sale abroad, and large claims due abroad in favor of Germany and the proceeds of the sales of securities held by Germany and representing, particularly as far as bonds and stocks in hostile countries are concerned, a value of many millions, which will considerably contribute to support our rate of exchange. Our rate will secure a considerable improvement and will soon be normal again.

Obviously, Herr Gutman was writing for the purpose of encouraging his own countrymen, overlooking the fact that he was incidentally issuing a warning to the United States. There is a sort of fictitious prosperity in this country just now, owing principally to the big traffic in war munitions, but the moment peace comes and stops that line of trade, there is almost sure to be a flattening out of industrial activity. If, on top of this, foreign goods are dumped here by hundreds of shiploads, there is bound to be an era of unemployment and suffering. The apparent blindness of our Government to this prospect is disheartening.

A split verdict, acquitting six of the former directors and discrediting as to five others, is the outcome of the trial of the eleven former directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, since which of weary court routine in which the only relief to the mass of technical testimony was furnished by the sprightly revelations of Charles S. Mellen, the jury was unable to come to an agreement as to the collective fate of the eleven defendants. Hence, the court's suggestion that the men at bar be dealt with as individuals was plainly the only means to a verdict. Statistics of the trial are simply stupendous. With the cost estimated at three-quarters of a million dollars and more than 2,000,000 words in the record together with 2,000 exhibits, it is worthy of remark that the jury system responded to this tremendous test so well as the outcome shows. Dissection of such a mass of evidence as that offered in this trial is plainly far beyond the ordinary capacity of laymen; but complaint on this score is not likely to be heard from any of the New Haven defendants.

Great as may be the eventual results under commission government even its strongest advocates cannot refrain from a smile at the business which marked its inauguration in New York State. For example, Buffalo saw its five commissioners get into a row which would have done credit to the worst exhibition under the old aldermanic system. One leading commissioner left this initial session in high temper, threatening to resign and leaving his four colleagues deadlocked on appointments of a chief of police and other departmental heads. Not result was the granting of one fish license. This would seem to be putting the "fish" in efficiency with a vengeance. In Niagara Falls, a general Republican commission defeated appointments of similar political faith to the discomfiture of ousted Democrats. In Newburgh, use of the by-product from the city stables instead of purchased fertilizer is one economy suggested and the planting of shade trees—an ancient and desirable move. Capricious critics may intimate that the trees to be planted will some day serve as tall timber which city managers would find available for refuge but we feel that eventually the system will operate successfully. It is to laugh though, when we recall the extravagant claims made for the new form which was to make city government satisfactory "in the twinkling of an eye."

Despite conclusions of former Sheriff Griffenbagen of New York county who believes that the emolument of that office should be cut $2,000 and still leave a living wage equal to the salary of a Public Service Commissioner, it is extremely unlikely that the legislature will listen to the suggestion. The present sheriff of New York, Al Smith, was for years Democratic leader in the Assembly, and no matter how strong the pressure for economy on upstate members, the liberal fees headed in Sheriff Smith's direction are not likely to be cut off by his erstwhile associates at the capitol. Beyond bearing a title, filling an extensive patronage list and ever lightening responsibilities, a metropolitan sheriff has comparatively unimportant duties, out of all proportion to the salary and fees paid. Sentiment for a wholesome cut there in is general save among the politicians who see no necessity for disturbing a competent fellow craftsman in the enjoyment of a juicy political plum. Whether or not there is honor among thieves, there appears to be a well-observed, even though unwritten, code of etiquette between active members of political parties. That is one reason why it is so hard to reduce taxes.

Rather Selfish.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was congratulated at a Denver reception because, on learning that his Colorado properties had a deficit for the year of $400,000, he merely said that he would proceed with his welfare work on a larger scale than ever.

"Well, you see," said Mr. Rockefeller, in response to these congratulations, "we are trying to put a new spirit into the relations of employer and employee. The old selfish relations were rather—well, rather like Mrs. Smith's relations to her husband."

"Smith came home one evening and said dismally:
 "'Well, I've got to give up smoking. I saw the doctor today.' One lung, he tells me, is quite gone."
 "'Oh, John," said Mrs. Smith, "can't you at least keep on till we get enough coupons for that near-sket jacket of mine?"—Denver Times.

A MISTAKE IN IDENTITY

By OSCAR COX

Having been invited to spend the week end at Seabright, on Friday afternoon, suit case in hand, I appeared at the railway station. A pale faced child poked a bunch of violets under my nose and looked an appeal to buy them. I did so, and putting them in the buttonhole of my coat I strolled toward the door through which passengers were going to the trains.

"Are you Will?"

"The voice came from a very pretty girl who was looking into my face inquiringly. My name is William, and it is so common for men that I was not especially surprised at being asked the question by a stranger, thinking her to have made a mistake in the person. My reply was:

"It is."

"I supposed so by the violets. Come; let us get on to the train. I have my ticket."

She slipped her arm through mine as confidently as if I belonged to her. Not knowing what to do I did nothing, but I fully intended to make her aware of her error at once.

"That last letter of Clara's," she said as we walked to the train, "decided me."

Curiosity here stepped in to take a hand. I wondered what Clara had said in the letter.

"Um," I said by way of saying nothing. But by this time we reached the car steps, and I handed the young lady in. She took a seat, and I sat down beside her. I had thus far taken no advantage of her mistake. I would let her go on a little further before heading her off. I have noticed that if a woman has anything to say she will usually say it without encouragement.

"Clara is just too lovely for anything," said the girl.

"Um."

"She has been very kind to me. When she wrote me that you had grown tired of your lonely life, that a big city like New York is of all places in the world the most desolate, that you wished she would introduce you to some girl who would make you a good wife and without the bother of a courtship, I realized that it was the same for men as for women, and while I didn't like your words—the bother of courting—I felt that in the main you were right. Then I received her letter making the arrangement for us to spend the week end with her and saying that you would meet me for this train and would wear a boutonniere of violets."

I had got the whole story in a nutshell. There was none of that shooting out in different directions like a bursting rocket, but a concise narration of facts. Just then the conductor came along taking tickets. My companion showed one for Dune, a station not quite so far as Seabright. Both tickets were taken up, and you can not see that mine was for a different station from hers. I began to explain:

"I dare say you will blame me when you have heard."

"Clara told me all about your marriage and divorce," she interrupted.

"I may as well say right here that I don't consider you in the least to blame. Indeed I don't see how you could have acted otherwise."

Why not make the break right here? I concluded to plunge.

"I am not a divorced man," I said.

"I have never been married. I think you must have made a mistake. For whom have you taken me?"

She looked at me in astonishment.

"Clara gave me no name except Will. She said your other name would come later if the affair proceeded."

"I am quite sure there has been a mistake. I began to tell you a few minutes ago, when you interrupted me."

"Oh, my goodness gracious!"

"Don't disturb yourself. Your secret is perfectly safe with me. But I regret that you should have fallen into the wrong hands. Is there anything I can do to right matters?"

"No, no, no."

"How do we know that if you have made a mistake Fate has not?"

The young lady was apparently at least calmed by this. At any rate, she seemed interested. I took out my card case, drew a card and, having pencilled my address on it, handed it to her, asking her to let me know how her affair with Will came out. A few moments later the train slowed up, the guard cried, "Dune!" and I handed my new found friend out of the train. She gave me an embarrassed smile at parting. I saw her enter a carriage driven by a coachman in livery and roll away.

I heard nothing more of the matter till one day I received a note signed by a name I did not recognize as among my acquaintances. As soon as I had read a few lines I knew it was from the girl who made the mistake.

To keep her promise she informed me that the matter which had come to my knowledge had not materialized. She seemed much mortified at having entered upon it in the way she had.

I wrote asking permission to call and received it. I found one who had lived in affluence, but, having been reduced to want, had gone to the city to earn her living. She had so suffered from loneliness that when a friend undertook to make a match for her in a rather crude way she was tempted.

She discovered that the man she was to meet did not suit her.

I found her ready to be consoled in the matter and consoled her, but not without "the bother of courting."

Misdirected Effort.

Some men honestly try to make home happy and merely tinker around the house till they put the furnace and the electric wiring out of business.

Smoke "Talking" 5 cent cigar and be happy.—Advertisement.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPROPRIATION.

Municipal Building, New York.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the board of water supply of the city of New York, pursuant to chapter 724 of the laws of the state of New York enacted in the year 1905, and amended thereafter, has made such surveys, maps, plans, specifications, estimates and investigations as it deemed proper in order to ascertain the facts as to what source for an additional supply of pure and wholesome water for the city of New York exist and are most advantageous and economical, and has made and has reported to the board of estimate and appropriation with recommendations as to what action should be taken in the premises, reference thereto, which report, with a map, plan and profile accompanying the same, bears the date of June 13, 1906, and is entitled "Plan and profile showing manner of obtaining from Schoharie creek an additional supply of water for the city of New York," which said map is on file in the office of the board of water supply of the city of New York in the Municipal Building, Park Row, Centre and Chambers streets, in New York City, as the said map and profile were approved by the board of estimate and appropriation July 6, 1906; that said map and profile were submitted to the state commissioner of water supply, dated September 21, 1906, and by the said board of estimate and appropriation approved October 21, 1915; that said map and profile have been a further report, dated September 21, 1915, to the board of estimate and appropriation, in which it is set forth that it is necessary that the said map and profile, dated June 13, 1906, be now modified and shown upon a map and profile submitted by said board of water supply, dated December 21, 1915, and entitled "Map and profile showing manner of obtaining from Schoharie creek an additional supply of water for the city of New York," which said map is on file in the office of the board of water supply of the city of New York in the Municipal Building, Park Row, Centre and Chambers streets, in New York City.

NOTICE IS ALSO GIVEN that the board of estimate and appropriation of the city of New York has fixed the 14th day of January, 1916, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at room 16, in the city hall, in the city of New York, as the time and place for a public hearing upon the said report, dated December 21, 1915, and has resolved that ap-provision be made for the publication of publication in the City Record and in two daily papers published in the city of New York, and by publication of said notice in two papers designated as "the City Record" if any, for the publication of official notices in each of the counties of Albany, Columbia,
Delaware, Dutchess, Greene, Westchester,
Rockland, Schoharie, Saratoga, Schenectady,
Schoharie, Westchester and Ulster, or if there be none such in any of said counties, then such notice shall be published in any two papers published in said counties, and publications having been determined to be made of estimate and appropriation to be reasonable public notice of said hearing, and that the secretary of the said board of estimate and appropriation was directed to give such notice as will meet the requirements of the statute and as he may be advised by the corporation council.

JOSEPH HAAG,
Secretary of the Board of Estimate and Appropriation of the City of New York.

Dated, New York City, December 23, 1915.

Y.M.C.A. TO HAVE WRESTLING CLUB

Physical Director Godfrey, of the Y. M. C. A., has called a meeting of all the seniors of the association to meet in the gym, at which time plans for organizing a wrestling club and a life saving club will be talked over. It is expected that the wrestling club will meet two Wednesdays of each month and the other two Wednesdays will be devoted to the life saving club. The members of the life saving club will receive lessons in advanced swimming. Any senior member of the association may affiliate with either one or the other or both of the new clubs.

Some fast basketball was played on Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. when another popular Saturday night was held. Two games in the Y. M. C. A. Church League were played.

In the first game the Rondout Presbyterian Church defeated the Holy Grail by a score of 18 to 9. The Presbyterians were Lezatte, Miller, Smith, Stevens and Rowland, while the Grail players were Hillis, Gregory, Voigt, Emmet and Shultis.

In the second game St. John's Church was defeated by the First Presbyterian Church by a score of 36 to 16. The Presbyterians were Cism, Miller, Johnson, Wenzel, and Every, while St. John's players were Kelly, Bushnell, E. Relyea, Carpenter, and Relyea.

The standing in the church league is as follows:

	W.	L.	P. C.
Clinton Avenue M. E.	2	0	1,000
Trinity M. E.	2	0	1,000
Rondout Presbyterian	2	1	.666
First Presbyterian	1	2	.333
Holy Grail	1	2	.333
Albany Ave. Baptist	0	2	.000
St. John	0	0	.000

The Employed Boys on Saturday evening defeated the Peerless Five by a score of 32 to 21. The Employed Boys were Hallinan, McHugh, Carpenter, McCann, McCordle, Rhymer and Boyd, while the Peerless were Diamond, Van Buren, McGrane, Ryan and Gentile.

Student B Game.

Saturday afternoon several games of basketball were played in the Student B League, which resulted as follows:

Apples, 8; Peaches, 28.
Pears, 16; Cherries, 27.
Oranges, 16; Lemons, 2.

Student C Games.

In the Student C League the following games were played:

Elks, 0; Young Eagles, 6.
Crescents, 21; Young Americans, 4.

Trojans, 8; Colonials, 9.

In a special game the Student C defeated the Acme Five by a score of 12 to 4.

Robert Vincent, who has arrived here after eight months in the trenches in France fears a spanking when he reaches home in Boston, where his father, Dr. John Vincent, is a prominent physician.

Robert ran away from home last April, took passage on the Arabic and arrived in Liverpool, penniless. It took him nine days to walk to London, where he tried to enlist, but without success. He worked his way through Paris and there joined the Boy Scouts and was finally sent to the front as dispatch bearer. After the discovery that he was an American the French authorities sent him home.

Life and Character Reading

JANUARY 10.

All persons born on any date between December 21 and January 20 are born under the sign of Capricorn.

This is the dark and mysterious sign of the earth. It gives a persistent and insatiable desire for knowledge, for the occult sciences, and the person will also have a tendency to study inventive sciences. Planetary influence around them gives them magnetism and dominant power.

Your weakness is trying to accomplish too many things at once. Discipline yourself to take up one line of work at a time and finish it before trying to do something else. Your ruling planets are Saturn and Mars. Most Deadly of Diseases.

The fact that the germ of the pneumonic plague is a relative to the bubonic germ and that no one knows how it becomes pneumonic, as a specialist has declared, make very little difference to the sufferer from the disease, for it is said to be about 100 per cent fatal. It is the plague which killed off 25,000,000 Europeans in the fourteenth century.

PLEAD GUILTY IN COUNTY COURT

County court convened this afternoon and several were arraigned and pleaded guilty.

Fred Hardy and Daniel McLinden pleaded guilty to selling liquor in Gardiner on Sunday, August 15, and each paid a fine of $50.

Charles Bell pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license in town of Olive on May 1, and was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended.

Joseph Deorio pleaded guilty to assault in the second degree and was fined $150.

Charles Newkirk, 16 years old, of New Paltz, pleaded guilty to stealing a horse and wagon. Sentence was deferred until Tuesday.

CROWNED IN DEATH.

A Growsome Ceremony After Pedro I. Gained His Throne.

Do you know what was the most solemn and impressive coronation ever accorded the consort of a king? Modern coronations are impressive, it is true, and it is all very well to be a queen and to ride in state from palace to the cathedral, although Ena of Batavia, queen Victoria of Spain, found the ride a little too exciting for real comfort. But in spite of that attempted assassination there was nothing in her assumption of the crown that was at all comparable with the coronation of another princess in the southwestern peninsula of Europe in the year 1350. She was Inez de Castro, one of the bluest blooded maidens of the haughty and ancient royal strain of Portugal.

In 1347, when Don Pedro had been betrothed by his father and the court to a Spanish princess, he eloped and was secretly married to his fair cousin, Inez. When the king of Portugal learned of the marriage he had his unwelcome daughter-in-law murdered by a band of hired assassins. The result was a devastating war, and when the prince ultimately came to the throne as Pedro I. he had the body of his beloved exhumed, attired in regal robes and placed in the throne chair. One fleshless hand clasped the scepter, and to this dead queen the whole court was required to do homage. That night she was buried with the greatest pomp and solemnity.

DIET FOR STOUT FOLKS.

Feeds That Nourish, but That Do Not Produce Fat.

Many foods are very nourishing, but do not produce fat. The two kinds which create fatty tissues are fats of all kinds, like butter, lard, drippings (foods cooked in them), and the large group of foods classed as starches. If eaten in excess starch will be laid up in the body as superfluous or stored fat.

Following is a list of nourishing foods which will not produce excess fat: Light meats, like chicken, white fish, lean beef; all vegetables except potatoes, parsnips and other starchy kinds; fruits of all kinds except bananas; grains or cereals except oatmeal and rice; beans and cheese; milk (in small quantity); eggs.

Beer and all malt drinks increase fatty tendency. The diet of milk and eggs will fatten unless exercise is taken or the body is in a very run down condition. Cocoa is a fattening drink also.

Exercise, plenty of water between meals and a diet of lean meats and many vegetables and fruits prevent fat. Avoid pastries, cake, fried foods, gravies and sauces. Do not eat between meals. Live in the open air and be active. If possible, perspire freely some time each day.—San Francisco Chronicle.

C. S. Clay Lodge, No. 528, I. O. O. F., will confer the initiatory degree on two candidates Tuesday evening. Every member of the degree team is urged to be present at this time.

At the special meeting on Friday afternoon of the Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, the review was called to order by Commander Lady Diriani, after which State Commander Lady McDannel, of Buffalo, was introduced by District Deputy Lady Goff of Middletown. After the usual formal recognition by the Review, Lady McDannel was requested to preside, which she did and by her genial manner, won the hearts of all present. Lady McDannel is now serving her first term as state commander, but has ably served, for fifteen years, as state record keeper. After the several candidates were initiated, and many subjects concerning the order were discussed. Among these was one deciding to hold a rally at Kingston in May when the several counties of Lady Goff's District would unite with Kingston in making the rally a success. Members are requested to note that meetings are now held on the first and third Monday, instead of first and third Fridays as heretofore. Also place of meeting is now Mechanics' Hall, Henry street.

Metzger Leaves Nitro Powder Co.

Emanuel Metzger has resigned as president of the Nitro Powder Company of this city. The resignation was submitted to the company on Saturday, Mr. Metzger, at the same time resigning as a director and as general manager of the company. He has held these positions for many years and has been closely identified with the powder business for a long time. Mr. Metzger's resignation was due to radical differences between himself and the principal stockholders of the company in regard to business policies responsibility for which he did not wish to assume when they were at variance with his own policies. The Nitro Powder Company has manufactured dynamite for a number of years, its products being largely used throughout the west, where they were used in preference to dynamite manufactured by companies which belong to what is known as the powder trust.

Colonial City Quartet Again.

The Colonial City Quartet will hold another of their popular dances here this Wednesday at Washington Hall. Owing to the request of their many friends and of the large crowd of last Wednesday, they will hold another dance this Wednesday and arrangements have been made with the manager for the color and moonlight machine which will add greatly to the pleasure of the dancers, while the quartet will sing between and during dances. The quartet with T. Dolan as first tenor; W. DeKoskie, second tenor; C. Moore, baritone and R. Phalen bass, will do their utmost to assure the audience of a pleasant evening and a large attendance is surely anticipated. McLean's famous orchestra will furnish the music and the price of admission is at all possible, within the reach of all.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 10.—Although there was a show of strength and substantial gains at the opening the market quickly changed its tone and during the first fifteen minutes nearly all the important issues were supplied at substantial concessions. The buying at the start reflected moderate accumulation of commission orders over Sunday, but this demand was quickly killed and general pressure from some unknown source caused a quick reaction. Mexican Petroleum opened a point higher at 122 and then fell to 118 1/4. Steel common made an opening gain of 1/4 at 87 1/2 followed by a decline to 87 1/4. American Smelting advanced 1/4 in the initial trading to 110 1/4, but dropped to 109 3/4 in the next few minutes. New York Central moved in the same way, opening 1/4 higher at 110 1/4 with a reaction to 109 3/4. Marine preferred dropped 1/4 to 78 1/4 and gains of around a point were sustained in American Can, Baldwin Locomotive and St. Paul. Bethlehem Steel opened on points higher at 440. At the end of the first fifteen minutes the tone was weak with the leading issues under pressure.

During the late forenoon there was an uncertain tone and many issues showed a reactionary tendency. Western houses were large sellers of Steel common, which after selling at 87 1/2 dropped to 86 1/2, rallied again to 87 1/4 and then dropped to 86 1/2. Anaconda Copper was weak, selling at 109 1/2, declining to 109 1/4, while Inspiration advanced to 47 1/4, a gain of 1/4. The war order issues were weak and declined sharply under some heavy selling. Money loaning at 1 1/4 per cent.

The leading issues in the late afternoon were in free supply at moderate concessions. Anaconda Copper, United States Steel common and American Smelting were offered in large blocks and all sold materially under Saturday's close. New York Central was exceptionally strong, selling at 110 1/4, a gain of one point. General Motors sold at a net gain of three points to 46 1/2. Studebaker declined 3/4 to 156 1/4 and American Steel Foundries was off 1/4 to 57.

The market closed weak. Trifling rallies from low levels met a steady supply. There was a disposition to apprehend further liquidation of war order speculative holdings. Strong interests did not offer resistance. Steel common fell to 86, against 87 1/2 at the start. American Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Maxwell Motors showed a lack of demand. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds strong.

FALL GUYS ORGANIZE SAUGERTIES BRANCH

Waite Branch, No. 1, is its title and Saugerties folks are waiting for the Waite and Their $300.

The Waite Branch, No. 1, of the Fall Guys' Association has been organized in Saugerties and the merchants of that village would like very much to get in touch with Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Waite, the founders of the branch, who left suddenly on Sunday afternoon, taking with them $500 in perfectly good money and came to Kingston, where all trace of them was lost. Pinkerton's Detective Agency is also very anxious to get in touch with the Waite.

The formation of the Saugerties branch of the association goes back to about two weeks ago when a man and woman went to Saugerties and stopped at the Exchange Hotel, where they registered under the name of Dr. J. M. Waite and wife. They spent considerable time in getting acquainted with the residents of Saugerties and as they were both of pleasing personality, they soon made a host of friends.

They had been in Saugerties but a few days when they inserted some advertisements in the local paper. One of the advertisements was to the effect that a married couple wanted suitable furnished rooms while the other advertisement was to the effect that they would like some information concerning a family named Waite that formerly lived at Veterans, town of Saugerties. This "Waite family" were supposed to have resided in Saugerties about 1888.

Time passed and the Waite got no reply to the last advertisement regarding the "lost family" they were advertising for, but they did secure suitable furnished rooms, much to the regret of the landlady, who later found that she was but one of the many who had been stung.

After spending a very happy two weeks making friends, the doctor and his wife thought that it was about time that a Fall Guys' Association should be started in the pretty village and they laid plans accordingly.

They Go Shopping.

Saturday afternoon they spent several hours after the banks had closed in shopping. This point should be borne in mind they waited until the local banks had closed for the day before they started on their shopping expedition. They visited a number of the Saugerties stores and in each store they made purchases and paid in checks. They did not work together but each one had a list of the stores and each visited one store while the other done business at the other store.

Mrs. Waite visited the large department store of Reed & Reed and there she purchased goods amounting to $30. The goods she bought were all of silk including silk waist, silk stockings and so forth. The entire amount of her purchases could be wrapped in a small package. She tendered the clerk a check for $50 and a check for $35. The bill amounted to $55 she received back $30 in change and departed with her purchases.

Husband Was On Firing Line.

In another store she had a friendly chat with the girl who waited on her and told how her husband had been on the French front in Europe and had worked so hard that he had been given furlough which they were spending in Saugerties.

There was hardly a store in the village that the doctor and his wife did not patronize that afternoon and beside purchasing goods for which they paid in checks they also left orders for other goods. For instance the doctor was very anxious to secure a Shiner's pin but the Saugerties Jewelry Store had none in stock but accepted his order and sent away for a pin of the design wanted by the physician.

Came to Kingston.

This all happened on Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon the delightful couple engaged an automobile at Van Buskirk's garage and were driven to Kingston where the doctor wanted to pay the driver of the car with a check.

"I am sorry," replied the driver, "but orders are only to accept cash in all cases."

"Oh all right," responded the physician as he drew a roll "big enough to choke a horse," from his pocket and paid the driver the amount asked for.

That was the last seen of the Waite, but Saugerties merchants still are waiting for the cash that went with the Waite.

Smelled a Rat.

While competition is keen among the Saugerties merchants, yet they set together and talk business in a friendly way and it was not long before it became known that many of the merchants had accepted checks from the Waite on their shopping tour on Saturday afternoon. The merchants then began to "smell a rat" and got busy.

$500 in Phony Checks.

This morning the startling discovery was made that $500 in worthless checks were in the two banks in the village. They were all drawn on the Corn Exchange Bank of New York city. A peculiar thing about the checks was the fact that they were not in Dr. Waite's name but purposed to be drawn by another physician payable to Dr. Waite and he had endorsed them on the back when he tendered them to the merchants in payment.

Pinkerton Wants Them.

It did not take much time for some of the local merchants as well as the banks to get the Corn Exchange Bank on the telephone and ask if the checks were "O. K." They were told that the checks were worthless and moreover that the names of soldiers were wanted on other charges and that the Pinkerton Detective Agency was very

Some Who Were Stung.

A list of those who were stung by the Waite would make a compilation for a business directory of Saugerties. They are:

Henry Cox, shoemaker.
Meyer Hyman, clothier.
Meyer Brothers, drug store.
Benjamin Fellows, shoe dealer.
M. M. Schoenfeld, jeweler and clothier.
Fred T. Lewis, cigar manufacturer.

Saugerties Jewelry Store.
And last but not least Mrs. James Jewell, with whom the Waite boarded, and who they presented with a check for $30 when they left in payment of their board.

GRIP EPIDEMIC AMONG CHILDREN

The prevailing grip epidemic is making itself felt among the babies of Kingston, particularly among children who have suffered from lack of nourishing food because family finances have not permitted them to be supplied with what they needed.

The Bureau of Social Service in its investigations has found a number of cases where babies were suffering from lack of nourishment and have become affected by the grip. What is needed at the present time is condensed milk for the babies, or money with which to purchase it. Condensed milk is more readily handled for such cases, it does not become stale or spoil, and greater care can be used in supplying it as needed than with ordinary milk.

Bed clothing is also needed for distribution in families where sickness prevails, and such clothing should be clean and warm. In several cases, child-patients have had relapses through lack of sufficient bed clothing, and where patients are in bed it is most necessary to see that they are kept warm and comfortable if medicine is to accomplish results in bringing about their cure.

Gifts of money for condensed milk, and also gifts of bed clothing will be most acceptable by the Bureau of Social Service. Such gifts may be sent to the Municipal Building on East O'Reilly street, and donors may communicate with Mrs. MacMillan at that place by telephone, the call being 1586.

STRIKE RIOT AT NIAGARA FALLS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Two thousand strikers and sympathizers attacked plant No. 1 of the Aluminum Company of America, the largest aluminum plant in the world. Hurry calls for police reserves brought out several hundred men. Within a few minutes after their arrival a pitched battle was in progress, the strikers hurling stones and clubs at the officers. Drawing their pistols and sticks the officers fired into the air and began clubbing the leaders of the mob until the rioters soon retreated. Many suffered cut scalps. When a semblance of order was secured it was announced to the strikers, through an interpreter, that the management of the plant would confer with their leaders. The consultation is now in progress. The strikers ask thirty cents a day increase. The company offers ten cents a day increase.

New Idea in Concrete Work.

A concrete pile has recently been invented which possesses important advantages over the kind formerly used. It is driven by boring its own hole with a stream of water ejected with considerable force at its point. Water at a pressure of 250 pounds is forced through the iron pipe forming the core of the pile, cutting a hole as the pile descends. The water dissolves earth and sand and thrusts rocks aside.

Foods Rich in Proteids.

The reason why all forms of meat, cheese and eggs form so satisfying a diet is not because they are rich in calories but because they are rich in proteid. In order to be properly nourished, one may paraphrase the famous proverb, "Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves," and make it read, "Take care of the proteid and the calories will take care of themselves."

Hard to Evident Flies.

A nest of wasps will kill from 2,000 to 4,000 flies a day, but the one or two they may miss will breed about 23,456, 789 more before the avengers can get back on the job next morning.

In some instances the wide hood effect which is so typical of the season, is featured with a bouffant drape. This proves an odd and interesting combination. This girlish and attractive dance gown, fashioned in pale blue faile classique, is designed to effect a bouffant tunic over a wide drop skirt. The bodice has wing sleeves of silver lace.

Tough Luck.

An old Cheshire woman called to her lord and master, "Jabez, will t' coom t' the 'baggin'?" "Baggin' in Cheshire means dinner.

"What's use? Ah canna find my old weskut."

"Well, it's warm enough. Tha can get 'bout the old weskut."

This Happened in Boston.

Teacher—Emerson, what is "spilling the beans?"

Emerson—Slang, ma'am, and vicious slang at that.

Teacher—I mean can you give me the definition of it?

Emerson—Yes, ma'am. "Spilling the beans" in its best colloquial sense is the unpremeditated extemporaneous promulgating of information concerning which one should have been much more reticently inclined. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Matter of Looks.

First Boarding House Keeper—I always keep my boarders longer than you do. Second Boarding House Keeper—Oh, I don't know! You keep them so that they look longer than they really are. — Exchange.

The Word "Gent."

At one time the word "gent" was a reputable term for general use. A respectable writer in 1564 tells of "a supper to divers gentlemen of the Gray's Inn for the great amitie between them and the Middle Temple gents." The diarist Evelyn speaks of the "noise and tumult occasioned by three or four wild gents in drink." Soon after Queen Victoria's accession "gents" became vulgar. Thackeray speaks of it in 1812 as an "affectionate diminutive much in use among commercial persons."

"What an awful thing it is!"—Twain began in a whisper.

Mr. Choate leaned closer to catch some ponderously sad expression from the humorist.

"What an awful thing it is," Twain repeated, "to be shut up in a place where one cannot smoke!"

Spilled the Solemnity.

Joseph H. Choate when ambassador to the court of St. James and Mark Twain were together in St. George's chapel, London, one hot day, both seemingly sobered by the solemnity of the place.

"What an awful thing it is!"—Twain began in a whisper.

Mr. Choate leaned closer to catch some ponderously sad expression from the humorist.

"What an awful thing it is," Twain repeated, "to be shut up in a place where one cannot smoke!"

And Else Was Only Seven.

"Don't you think little Elm gets more and more like me?"

"Certainly! Soon we shan't be able to distinguish the difference between you. She grows older, and you grow younger."—Fliegende Blätter.

Foundation for Dickens' Success.

How hard I worked at that tremendous shorthand and all improvements appertaining to it! I will only add to what I have already written of perseverance at this time in my life, and of a patient and continuous energy which then began to be matured in me, and which I know to be the strong point in my character, if I have any strength at all, that there, on looking back, I find the source of my success.—Charles Dickens.

Goose Had Long Life.

An interesting specimen of the goose family died recently in the Dublin Zoological gardens. It was a remarkable bird from the point of view of its longevity. As nearly as can be ascertained it had reached the age of forty-four years. This appears to be a record period of existence.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Jan. 10.—Tennis calls for the best there is in a person; for the utmost in mental effort and the utmost in physical.

The greatest injustice that ever has been done to tennis is to refer to it as a "mollycoddles" game. It is a strenuous game—a game that weaklings cannot play. It calls for more exertion and more skill than do baseball or even football. No one can play tennis who isn't in extremely good physical condition, because the strain of the game will wear down quickly all those who are not physically fit.

If you play tennis yourself you know the truth of this statement. If you don't play it, it might be worth your while to watch the playing of a few sets sometime—to watch the whirlwind action of the players.

Tennis a Real Game.

Tennis requires its devotees to be "on their toes" every second of the game. BING! You hit the ball and send it sailing over the net, after a hard chase on your part to meet it before it bounds out of your reach. Do you then get a chance to rest? No, none at all, because a second after you hit the ball, your opponent has driven it back at you. Sometimes it is headed straight at you, but oftener it is as far from you as your foot can land it. That's the game—to place the ball where the other fellow can't hit it.

The net game really is a game for the young. It asks so much in speed and endurance that the older folks cannot play it. A pretty person, as a tennis player, is a fizzle. He cannot cover the ground rapidly and, as a result, he is just a joke as an opponent.

Tennis is a game that has come to the fore during the past five years with a wonderful rush despite prejudice. Years ago it was a rich man's game. There were few public tennis courts, and the only courts were those conducted in connection with the exclusive country clubs. But times have changed.

Millions Play Tennis.

There are millions of tennis players in the United States today where there were only thousands a few years ago. The municipal authorities in the various cities found that tennis was a real game—and a beneficial one. So they installed courts in their public parks. Persons in many cities who owned vacant lots recognized the gradually increasing popularity of tennis and have built courts on those lots.

For those who are able to play the game there is no athletic contest that furnishes more mental or physical exercises. The constant chasing after the ball from one side to the other, brings the blood into healthy circulation and it hardens practically every muscle in the body. Those who play tennis consistently, rarely know a sick day, merely because tennis is the best conditioner known.

And tennis develops the brain as much as it develops the body. A slow thinker never becomes a good tennis player, but the wits of a slow thinker always are sharpened a bit by playing the game. One's brain must move with the speed of lightning to keep up with the over shifting conditions in the game. "Alertness is the keynote of tennis" wrote one expert. And he is right. To play a good game of tennis one must be alert in body and brain. One must follow every movement of that ball, and, at times, anticipate it. One's brain must move quickly, and one's body must follow instantly the dictates of the brain. Tennis is a game in which fractions of seconds oftentimes mean defeat or victory.

If you would be healthy and sharp-witted, try tennis.

Rondout Presbyterian Church Notes.

The mid-week meeting for conference and prayer will be held in the chapel on Thursday evening. The subject will be "The Value of Work and the Cure of the Disease of Moral Laziness."

All the members of the Ladies' Aid Society are invited to come to the chapel with their sewing bags on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. During the afternoon the church linen will be overlooked and the worn table cloths cut up into napkins and hemmed. Each member is invited to bring a basket lunch and remain for the evening prayer service.

Next Sunday the pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. G. Ellis, will take up a further examination of the answers to his questions concerning the religious problems of today and will present the answers of the men of Kingston to the question, "Do most men have a sympathy with religion?"

Wall Decorations.

In planning for remodeling or decorating it is well to remember that vertical lines on a wall increase the apparent height of the ceiling, while on the other hand, horizontal lines on the wall bring the ceiling down. When the ceiling is too high striped wall papers and all vertical lines are to be avoided.

ENTERTAINMENT BY THE LITTLE FOLKS

The little folks who gave the entertainment at St. Mary's Hall on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the Home of the Holy Childhood, presented a charming program in a charming manner. There was a large audience, composed of the children of the home, children of St. Mary's School and their friends both children and grown-ups. "Ted" Humphrey acted as master of ceremonies and announced the first number on the program to be "Adeste Fideles," sung by the children of the Home of the Holy Childhood, and they sang this world-wide Christmas hymn as only children can sing it. Then a group of little tots gave a very amusing presentation of "Mr. Duck and Mr. Turkey," those taking part being Margaret O'Meara, Julius Cook, Betty Murphy, Peggy Haloran, Earna Schmidt, Dorothy Dinan and Katherine Deane.

It is worthy of note that the keen imagination of each child participating in the entertainment, made very real whatever part was taken by them. Little Julia Cook gave a realistic recitation of "Little Boy Blue," that must have deeply touched many an older heart. In an impelling manner, Dorothy Dinan sang, possessed of a very sweet voice, "Who Can Guess My Name?" accompanied by Mrs. Leary. For a very little girl, the piano solo, "March From Tannhauser," was given a truly remarkably finished performance by Katharine Deane.

Just here there seemed to be a change in the program, for instead of Ted Humphrey announcing the next number, his place was taken by Edmund Mahar, who stated that the next selection would be "Limitations of Youth," by Ted Humphrey, who appeared in full Boy Scout regalia, "armed to the teeth," and in spirited fashion and clear ringing voice gave his amusing recitation, returning Mahar's compliment. Humphrey then announced "A Song, Booby," by Edmund Mahar, his sister Eleanor at the piano. The clear boy voice, the bit of dramatic action and the excellent piano accompaniment pleased all.

Another exceptionally good musical number was "Cavatina," by Schmidt, played by Master John Redican, violinist, and Hazel Radican, pianist. These two excellent young musicians gave a second selection, "Constant Devotion," by Giebel, and that too delighted the audience, especially as the tone of the youthful violinist was remarkably good.

The remainder of the program was devoted to exhibitions of aesthetic dancing by pupils of Miss Delta Boice, Miss Boice playing the accompaniments. Wee Betty Murphy was the first little fairy-like dancer and won all hearts. Then came such a pretty Japanese solo dance by Earna Schmidt. This little maid wore a lovely pale blue embroidered kimono, and carried a Japanese little blue fan to match. Little Earna seemed just a sprite from Japan, who had danced off of some beautiful fan and into the hearts of her audience. The next dance was the "Pavlova Gavotte," given by Katherine Kearney, brave in boyish suit of black velvet, and Earna Schmidt, now a fetching little American lass, in frock and hat of delicate blue. This was an exceedingly pretty dance. So was the spirit-like "Poppy Dance," given by Helen Dwyer, who nodded and dipped and floated and waved just as any beautiful crimson poppy should. Her costume of white covered with red maline was very realistic, too, and her dancing very graceful. One of the loveliest dances of them all, was "The Nightingale," by Katherine Kearney. Little Katherine seemed really some bird that child, and she poised, or floated, or swayed low toward earth, or fluttered a moment and then flew away. With an inward ken she seemed to all but become that loveliest of song birds, which she typified, "The Nightingale." The closing number was the "Lulu Fado," danced with exceeding grace by Helen Dwyer and Katherine Kearney. After this final bit of gracefulness, Father Hickley took occasion to announce that ice cream and cake would be served and then thanked not only all the young people who had given an afternoon of such pleasure by the excellence of their performances, but also Mrs. J. W. Leary for arranging the program, Miss Boice for her artistic training of the little people, and all who had assisted in any way in the success of the day. It was learned that the entertainment netted a gratifying sum for the benefit of the Home of the Holy Childhood.

Boys Tell of Trip.

Sunday evening a most interesting service was held in the Albany Avenue Baptist Church when the boys who had attended the Rochester conference for boys held recently had charge of the meeting and spoke of their experience. The meeting was in charge of Boys' Work Secretary Harry Evory of the Y. M. C. A. and the boys who spoke from Edward Stelle, Calvin Winne, Albert Devo of the First Reformed Church, Irving Barth, Lauran Bell and William Kemble of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, Reginald Case of St. James M. E. Church, Edward Hills and Mildred Douglas, from the Trinity M. E. Church, and Willis Ryder from the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church.

FIELD OF SPORTS.

Notes of Baseball, Pugilism and Other Lines of Athletics.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—Charles H. Thomas, who still occupies the position of president of the Chicago National League Club, received a call today from Charles H. Weeghman, who within the next ten days will relieve Thomas of his job. The two went over together the contracts of Cub players. Weeghman found many of the Cub's contracts called for surprisingly large salaries for the 1916 season. The expenses of running the team this year will be larger than Weeghman expected. The question of taking the Cubs to Tampa to train this spring will be gone into by the two presidents.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—President Ban E. Johnson of the American League was to be in Cleveland today to lend his aid to the effort being made to sell the Cleveland Baseball Club. When he left Chicago last night he said he was still hopeful of interesting Cleveland capital in the venture.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—Joe Golden, representing a syndicate of San Antonio (Tex.) men, was here today hoping to arrange a championship battle between Freddie Welsh and Charley White. He said he was prepared to offer $15,000 and would post the money as soon as the battlers agreed to sign articles.

HAROLD JENVIN.

JENVIN FIRST HOLD-OUT OF THE SEASON.

Although the settling of the dove of peace in the baseball world has flooded the market with good players, thereby bringing down the price of stars to a certain extent, Harold Jenvin, the Boston Red Sox player, has the distinction of being the first hold-out of the year. Jenvin has not yet appended his signature to a Red Sox contract and is said to be holding out for more money. Joseph Lannin, the owner of the Sox, thinks well of Jenvin and wants to keep him, as evidenced by his refusal to put through a trading deal with Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Browns, involving Jenvin. Lannin expects Jenvin to come around before the season opens. He may emulate Tris Speaker who usually does not sign up until after arriving at the training grounds.

Girls' Swimming Classes.
There was a good attendance at the girls' classes at the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday afternoon but it is hoped that even still and themselves of this excellent opportunity which has been offered the girls and women of the city to enjoy the benefits of the association. A competent swimming teacher has been engaged to instruct the girls in the natural art without any extra charge. She is Mrs. Sulzer of South Wall street, who has had a wide experience as instructress in the baths of New York city. This addition of a competent swimming teacher should be a big drawing card for ladies' day. Swimming is one of the most healthy of sports and to know even the simplest strokes is a valuable knowledge, one that has saved many a woman's life from a watery grave. As stated in a previous article in The Freeman, the fee for the season is the same as last year, $1.50, but there will be no reduction for those who wish to enter later in the year. Women and girls wishing to join should enter the classes as soon as possible in order to derive all the benefits that a membership in the classes gives.

Ame Five Defeated.
The Ame Five of this city traveled to East Kingston on Saturday night and were victorious in a last basketball game by a score of 19 to 12. The game was not only fast but at times rough. C. Schriever was the life of the game. Moxham, who played forward for the Aemes, held his man scoreless in the first half but the five minutes he played in the second half resulted in a number of "personal fouls" being called on him by the referee. While trying to block a pass Moxham and M. Watzka became entangled in each others feet and Moxham fell to the floor with Watzka on top of him. The referee called time out and announced that he disqualified Moxham and ordered him from the game. The local five lay the defeat to the fact that they had to play the remaining period with but four men. The East Kingston players were Redden, W. Watzka, forwards, Henneberry, center, guards, while the Ame players were Moxham and H. Sills, forwards, J. Sills, center, and C. C. Schriever and Palisi, guards.

AMERICAN CLERGYMAN BELIEVED LOST ON TORPEDOED PERSLIA.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Friends of the Rev. Homer R. Salisbury, of this city, who was a passenger aboard the British liner Persia, when she was torpedoed in the Mediterranean, believe that the clergyman was among the victims. No word has been heard of him among any of the survivors.

Dr. Salisbury was on his way to join his wife, who is a missionary in India.

Social Friday Evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity M. E. Church will give a social evening in the church next Friday evening, consisting of Christmas music, repeated by the choir, and refreshments in the Sunday school rooms.

There is a general good time will be had. No charge will be connected with the evening's entertainment.

The ladies of the church are also preparing for a chicken pie supper February 4 and their annual fair April 11 and 12.

Estate of Harriet J. Van Dusen.
On the petition of Frank M. Van Dusen, Ralph T. Van Dusen and Clara V. D. Tappen, Surrogate Gill has granted letters of administration to Eleanor C. Van Dusen on the estate of the late Harriet J. Van Dusen, all of the members of the family uniting in the petition for Miss Van Dusen's appointment as administratrix, and waiving their prior rights to letters.

Sick in City Lockup.
Edward Reilly, a wayfarer from Paterson, N. J., lay at the city hall on Saturday night for lodging and spent the night in the lockup. Sunday morning he was taken ill and Sergeant Hanley sent for Dr. Hasbrouck, the city physician, who found the stranger on the verge of pneumonia and had him removed to the Kingston City Hospital.

Leg Broken by Falling Timber.
William Sickler, who is employed on River's boat yard on Abbel street, had his leg broken while at work this morning unloading a carload of lumber. One of the heavy pieces slipped from the car and caught Sickler by the leg. He was removed to the Kingston City Hospital in the ambulance.

Adulterated Bread.

Whole-meal bread or brown bread is supposed to contain the whole grain of wheat, kernel, germ and bran. It requires greater mastication and has the advantage of retaining much that is lost to white bread. There is no other article of food which lends itself better to adulteration than bread and nothing which is more adulterated. Potatoes, alum "bleachers" and other things best not known, all form part of "our daily bread."

Aluminum Pistons Satisfactory.

Aluminum alloy pistons in motor car engines work excellently with the usual lubrication.

A Regular Cinch.

Home getting, whether buying, or renting, in city, country, suburb, at the seashore, or in the mountains, is a regular cinch these days of Want Ad advertising.

Why it's no trouble at all to get the house, or flat, or cottage you want. Just run a Want Ad stating the location your desire and the price you are willing to pay and in no time you will be entirely satisfied and established in a comfortable home.

Mr. Home Hunter, start in this January, 1916, with the idea that the Want Ads can help you in every circumstance of your domestic or business life, for they can.

Painless Extractions

During the year 1915 the Cady Dental Offices in Poughkeepsie, Kingston, Newburgh and Middletown performed over ten thousand extractions. These operations were painless. Local Anesthetics were used in the majority of cases but nitrous oxide gas in a few. This

A LOST PICTURE PLAY

It Turned Up
Unexpectedly.

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

I am the manager of a moving picture studio. What is a manager of a movie studio? Only he who has been such knows. Success or failure depends upon him.

If one desires to get an idea of the workings of the photographing of plays let him visit a studio while the work is going on. He sees men, women and children lounging about waiting their turn to enact their parts. Some are arranged before the camera. A court scene, a love part, a murder, anything, everything that pertains to civilized, even savage life, on land, on the water, in the air, is put on the films before the wondering beholder. A woman is gazing in abandon while waiting to be a princess before the camera. A peasant girl is complaining that she is "died to death" for the work is dreadfully wearying—and she must in a few minutes be skipping about as happy as a newly fledged bird. This is behind the scenes of the movies.

How different from the picture passing smoothly before the eyes of an audience seated in comfortable chairs in the theater!

It is this multiplication of matters needing attention that leads managers of studios to hedge themselves in behind closed doors and forbidden to any one until the name has been sent in on a slip of paper stating the nature of the caller's business. And if some unknown person desires to see him to submit a picture play he sends word to leave it and it will be examined. It then goes on to the file of hundreds of other plays to take its turn and (usually) be returned after weary waiting on the part of the author.

Having given, I trust, the reader some faint idea of my multifarious duties I will tell my story.

One morning when I sat down to my desk, feeling somewhat rested from the work of the day before, there came a call at the telephone. Taking up the receiver, I listened. The voice that came over the wire was that of a woman and was soft and sweet.

"Is this Mr. Collamore?"

"Yes, I'm Mr. Collamore."

"I've just finished a picture play, and I would like to have a few minutes' conversation with you about it."

"Leave it in the office, or send it by mail, and it will receive attention."

"Thank you very much. Goodbye."

I was surprised at being able to throw the party off so easily and congratulated myself at having done so; then turned to my daily routine. The next morning there was another call at the phone.

"Mr. Collamore, I have some more information to give you about that matter of which we were talking yesterday and will call on you at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Goodbye."

"Who are you, please?"

"Miss Weatherby."

Hearing a click I knew there was no use trying to find out who Miss Weatherby was. I did not remember any conversation with any such person, but I concluded that I had neglected to take down the name. Inasmuch as she had been admitted and had talked with me, what she had to communicate must be of some importance. At any rate, when she was announced in the afternoon I gave an order for her admittance. A very pretty young woman was ushered in, who seated herself in the chair beside my desk with as much sang-froid as if she had a right to remain there as long as she chose.

"Let me see," I said to her. "What was the business we were discussing yesterday morning? I don't quite recall it."

"I told you that I had a picture play."

Now I knew who Miss Weatherby was. Unable to get at me in the regular way, she had resorted to the telephone to make an appointment—a very shrewd device. However, she had succeeded in passing my guard and there was nothing to do but listen to what she had to say. This was brief and to the point. She asked me to read her scenario myself. I told her that it was impossible for me to read all the plays that came into the studio, to which she replied that she did not wish me to read all the plays, she would be satisfied if I would read hers. She would not leave without the promise, and I was obliged to give it. Then she handed me her manuscript and departed without a word.

It was evident that the girl was not only bright, but had the good sense to understand that her play would stand by itself and she need not bore me by telling about its strong points. I am a man of my word and determined to keep my pledge to her. I put the scenario in my pocket, intending to glance over it on my way home. I live in a suburb and go home by rail. When on the train I would have abundant opportunity to do so.

That evening when I went home I was loaded down—a common condition of commuters—with parcels. On the train I took out the scenario and was about to begin its perusal when a boy came along with the evening papers. I bought one and, seeing a startling announcement of a victory in the great European war, laid the manuscript down beside me on the seat.

It was about ten days after the loss that I was called up on the phone by Miss Weatherby, who asked in her sweet voice if I had passed upon her play. I responded that I had not. This was as far as I got when she interrupted me, saying that she was aware that I was a very busy man. Indeed, she wondered that I had not broken down long ago. Then, saying that it would be criminal for her to take up my time about her small matter, she hung up the receiver, and I was shut off.

I did not know whether to feel glad or sorry at this respite. I would have preferred to make my confession and have the suspense ended. And yet the delay might bring forth some development—the manuscript might turn up; something might happen either to me or the young lady to render an explanation unnecessary. I think that I would almost have been willing to break my leg if while I was laid up the difficulty could be removed.

I did not hear from Miss Weatherby for some time after she had called me up on the phone. A new play that had been hawked about among film manufacturers was meeting with great success, and I was interested in making the acquaintance of the author and getting some of his work. But the name of the writer was not given, and I failed to find out who he was. It was rumored that the play had been written for the actress who played the principal part, a lady who had made a reputation on the stage—Helen Markland, though this was her stage name. I had never seen Miss Markland, having been so busy that I had to work nights, and tried to get an evening to attend the theater when she was on the screen, but thus far she had failed.

The next time Miss Weatherby called me up to inquire about her play she asked me if I had seen Helen Markland in her new play. I told her that I had not, but was trying to get an opportunity to do so, whereupon she went into ecstasies over the play and the actress. "I'm going tomorrow night to see her," she added. "I wish you would be my escort."

Here was an opportunity to break the news of my carelessness under great advantage. I knew that for one in my position to condescend to escort one of the multitude of women ambitious to achieve a reputation as a playwright would be considered a great honor. I told Miss Weatherby that I would be delighted to escort her in good time for the first performance. She replied that she should expect me to criticize the play, giving her the benefit of my knowledge in such matters, that she might utilize it in improvements in the scenario in my possession. I winced at this, but said nothing.

The next evening I called for Miss Weatherby in a carriage. She introduced me to her mother, who was to go with us to the play. We were a little ahead of the main feature, during which interval I was delighted with my companion, who chatted charmingly. She seemed in the best of spirits and very proud of having secured the escort of a manager of a studio. When the main play came on she ceased to talk and sat with an expectancy upon her face such as she might have shown were she personally interested in the play about to be produced.

A few minutes after the opening the heroine came on the screen. I started. To my astonishment, she might have been Miss Weatherby's twin sister. A photograph has certain differences from its original, and I was not quite sure of the resemblance. I turned toward my companion and saw an amused smile on her lips.

Then I knew that Miss Weatherby and Helen Markland were the same person.

There is little more to my story. When Miss Weatherby left her scenario with me she was unknown in the picture field, though she had attained some reputation as an actress under the name of Helen Markland. The scenario that I had left in the train bore her address and was returned to her. She succeeded in getting it accepted by another manufacturer, with herself in the title role.

The play and the leading lady were delightful.

Miss Weatherby and I became fast friends, and I have since manufactured several of her plays.

seat. Becoming absorbed in the news, I read the paper till we reached my station and, forgetting all about the scenario, left it in the seat. Not till after dinner did I remember it and my promise to read it.

There is a rule of the railroad that all articles left in trains should be turned in at the nearest terminal, and I hoped to recover the play the next day when I went into the city. It had not been left at the lost article office. I was worried. I called again to inquire for it the next day and was still disappointed. I gave up all hope of recovering it and began to consider devices by which I might best get out of the scrape with Miss Weatherby.

I had not promised to read the play within any given time, so there was no hurry in doing anything about the matter. I was in hope that an address was written on the manuscript and it would be sent back to the author, who would turn it in again to me. But when a week passed I gave up this hope.

I could now do nothing but confess the loss to Miss Weatherby and indemnify her. But I was very busy, as usual, and concluded to wait for her to put in an appearance, when I would be very sweet to her with a view to be let down as lightly as possible. I was ready to pay her a fair price for the time she would spend in making a duplicate copy of the manuscript.

Local Director Godfrey of the Y. M. C. A. has called a meeting of all the seniors of the association to meet in the gym, at which time plans for organizing a wrestling club and a life saving club will be talked over. It is expected that the wrestling club will meet two Wednesday evenings of each month and the other two Wednesday evenings will be devoted to the life saving club. The members of the life saving club will receive lessons in advanced swimming. Any senior member of the association may affiliate with either one of the other clubs in the new clubs.

Games of the Y. M. C. A. were played on Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. when another popular Saturday night was held. Two games in the Y. M. C. A. Church League were played.

In the first game the Roundout Presbyterian Church defeated the Holy Trinity of a score of 15 to 9. The Presbyterian players were: Lezotte, Miller, Smith, Stevens and Howland, while the Holy Trinity players were: Hillis, Gregory, Viner, Emmet and Shultz.

In the second game St. John's Church was defeated by the First Presbyterian Church by a score of 26 to 16. The Presbyterian players were: Cism, Miller, Johnson, Wenzel, and Fryer, while St. John's players were: Kelly, Buchanan, E. K. Rosen, Carpenter and Reiden.

The standing in the church league is as follows:

Club	W	L	P.C.
Clinton Avenue M. E.	2	0	1.000
Timothy M. E.	2	0	1.000
Roundout Presbyterian	2	1	.666
First Presbyterian	1	2	.333
Holy Trinity	1	2	.333
Albany Ave. Baptist	0	2	.000
St. John	0	2	.000

The Clinton Boys on Saturday evening defeated the Peerless Five by a score of 22 to 21. The Employed Boys were Hallinan, McHugh, Carpenter, McCann, McCandless, Rhymer and Boyd, while the Peerless were: Hammond, Van Buren, McGane, Ryan and Gentile.

Student B Game.

Saturday afternoon several games of basketball were played in the Student B League, which resulted as follows:

Apples, 8; Peaches, 28.
Pears, 16; Cherries, 27.
Oranges, 16; Lemons, 2.

Student C Games.

In the Student C League the following games were played:
Elks, 9; Young Eagles, 6.
Crescents, 21; Young Americans, 4.

Trojans, 8; Colonials, 9.
In a special game the Student C defeated the Acme Five by a score of 12 to 1.

ROBERT VINCENT

AFTER EIGHT MONTHS IN
TRENCHES NOW FEELS SPARKING
AT HOME.

New York, Jan. 10.—Seven years ago Robert Vincent, who has traveled here after eight months in the trenches of France, came to Kingston when he reached home in the town where he was born. Dr. John Vincent, is a prominent physician.

Robert ran away from home last year to join the army on the Atlantic and landed in Liverpool, penniless. It took him nine days to walk to London, where he tried to enlist, but without success. He worked his way around the world and here, when the war broke out, he was busy with the Red Cross. After the war he was an American and the French authorities sent him home.

Napoleon's Idea of Life.

Life is but a light dream, which soon vanishes. To live is to suffer. The savage man struggles vainly to gain the victory over himself.—Napoleon.

Happiness.

Happiness is that single and glorious thing which is the very light and sun of the whole animated universe; and where she is not it is better that nothing should be.—Colton.

Two Simple Remedies.

In case of burns, rub on four, then apply alcohol until it ceases burning.
For earache: Take a little cotton, dip in Jamaica ginger and press into your ear; will relieve you quickly.

Daily Thought.

Don't be content with doing only your duty. Do more than your duty.
It's the horse who finishes a neck ahead who wins the race.—Andrew Carnegie.

Weights a Fly's Wing.

The weighing machine used in the laboratory of the bureau of standards in Washington is said to be the most accurate in the world. It will weigh the wing of a fly.—Chicago Journal.

Reflecting on His Judgment.

If there is one thing that makes a man madder than another, it is reading the glowing statements in the revertisements of tobaccos other than the one he smokes.—Rochester (N. Y.)
Union and Advertiser.

Life and Character Reading

JANUARY 10.

All persons born on any date between December 21 and January 20 are born under the sign of Capricorn.

This is the dark and mysterious sign of the earth. It gives a persistent and insatiable desire for knowledge, for the occult sciences, and the person will also have a tendency to study intuitive sciences. Planetary influence around them gives them magnetism and dominant power.

Your weakness is trying to accomplish too many things at once. Discipline yourself to take up one line of work at a time and finish it before trying to do something else. Your ruling planets are Saturn and Mars. Saturn is the ruler of Destiny and while not entirely harmonious in this horoscope his evil aspect is offset by Mars, who gives strength to overcome and ward off disaster and misfortune.

Most Deadly of Diseases.

The fact that the germ of the pneumonic plague is a relative to the bacillus germ and that no one knows how it becomes pneumonic, as a specialist has declared, make very little difference to the sufferer from the disease, for it is said to be about 100 per cent fatal. It is the plague which killed off 25,000,000 Europeans in the fourteenth century.

PLEAD GUILTY IN COUNTY COURT

County court convened this afternoon and several were arraigned and pleaded guilty.

Fred Hardy and Daniel McInden pleaded guilty to selling liquor in Gardner on Sunday, August 15, and each paid a fine of $50.

Charles Bell pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license in town of Olive on May 1, and was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended.

Joseph Deorio pleaded guilty to assault in the second degree and was fined $150.

Charles Newkirk, 16 years old, of New Paltz, pleaded guilty to stealing a horse and wagon. Sentence was deferred until Tuesday.

CROWNED IN DEATH.

A Groomsman Ceremony After Pedro I. Gained His Throne.

Do you know what was the most solemn and impressive coronation ever accorded the consort of a king? Modern coronations are impressive, it is true, and it is all very well to be a queen and to ride in state from palace to the cathedral, although Ena of Battemberg, now Queen Victoria of Spain, found the ride a little too exciting for real comfort. But in spite of that attempted assassination there was nothing in her assumption of the crown that was at all comparable with the coronation of another princess in the southwestern peninsula of Europe in the year 1350. She was Inez de Castro, one of the bluest blooded maidens of the haughty and ancient royal strain of Portugal.

In 1347, when Don Pedro had been betrothed by his father and the court to a Spanish princess, he eloped and was secretly married to his fair cousin, Inez. When the king of Portugal learned of the marriage he had his unwelcome daughter-in-law murdered by a band of hired assassins. The result was a devastating war, and when the prince ultimately came to the throne as Pedro I. he had the body of his beloved exhumed, attired in regal robes and placed in the throne chair. One fleshless hand clasped the scepter, and to this dead queen the whole court was required to do homage. That night she was buried with the greatest pomp and solemnity.

DIET FOR STOUT FOLKS.

Feeds That Nourish, but That Do Not Produce Fat.

Many foods are very nourishing, but do not produce fat. The two kinds which create fatty tissues are fats of all kinds, like butter, lard, drippings (foods cooked in them), and the large amount of foods placed on a stomach eaten in excess starch will be laid up in the body as superfluous or stored fat.

Following is a list of nourishing foods which will not produce excess fat: Light meats, like chicken, white fish, lean beef; all vegetables except potatoes, parsnips and other starchy kinds; fruits of all kinds except bananas; grains or cereals except oatmeal and rice; beans and cheese; milk (in small quantity); eggs.

Beer and all malt drinks increase fatty tendency. The diet of milk and eggs will fatten unless exercise is taken or the body is in a very run down condition. Cocoa is a fattening drink also.

Exercise, plenty of water between meals and a diet of lean meats and many vegetables and fruits prevent fat. Avoid pastries, cake, fried foods, gravies and sauces. Do not eat between meals. Live in the open air and be active. If possible, perspire freely some time each day.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Ancient Musical Instruments.

The violin type of musical instrument has been used from an unknown period of antiquity, and the viol has been traced back to the eighteenth century.

Abraham Lincoln Circle, No. 193, Protected Circle, in J. O. U. A. M. Hall, Henry street.

Rondout Lodge, No. 343, F. and A. M., in Masonic Hall, Rondout.

C. S. Clay Lodge, No. 528, I. O. O. F., will confer the initiatory degree on two candidates Tuesday evening. Every member of the degree team is urged to be present at this time.

At the special meeting on Friday afternoon of the Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, the review was called to order by Commander Lady Diriani, after which State Commander Lady McDannel, of Buffalo, was introduced by District Deputy Lady Goff of Middletown.

After the usual formal recognition by the Review, Lady McDannel was requested to preside, which she did, and by her genial manner, won the hearts of all present. Lady McDannel is now serving her first term as state commander, but has ably served, for fifteen years, as state record keeper. After the several candidates were initiated the meeting was declared informal, and many subjects concerning the order were discussed. Among those was one deciding to hold a rally at Kingston in May, when the several counties of Lady Goff's District would unite with Kingston in making the rally a success. Members are requested to note that meetings are now held on the first and third Monday, instead of first and third Fridays as heretofore. Also place of meeting is now Mechanics' Hall, Henry street.

Metzger Leaves Nitro Powder Co.

Emmanuel Metzger has resigned as president of the Nitro Powder Company of this city. The resignation was submitted to the company on Saturday, Mr. Metzger at the same time resigning as a director and as general manager of the company. He has held these positions for many years and has been closely identified with the powder business for a long time. Mr. Metzger's resignation was due to radical differences between himself and the principal stockholders of the company in regard to business policies responsibility for which he did not wish to assume when they were at variance with his own policies. The Nitro Powder Company has manufactured dynamite for a number of years its products being largely used throughout the west, where they were used in preference to dynamite manufactured by companies which belong to what is known as the powder trust.

Colonial City Quartet Again.

The Colonial City Quartet will hold another of their popular dances here this Wednesday at Washington Hall. Owing to the request of their many friends and of the large crowd of last Wednesday, they will hold another dance this Wednesday and arrangements have been made with the manager for the color and moonlight machine which will add greatly to the pleasure of the dancers, while the quartet will sing between and during dances. The quartet will be D. Dolan as first tenor; W. DeRoskie, second tenor; C. Moore, baritone and R. Phalen bass, will do their utmost to assure the audience of a pleasant evening and a large attendance is surely anticipated. McLean's famous orchestra will furnish the music and the price of admission is at lowest possible, within the reach of all.

Humility Not All.

Humility is the part of wisdom and is most becoming in men. But let no one discourage self-reliance; it is, of all, the greatest quality of true manliness.—Louis Kossuth.

Human Nature.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Jan. 10.—Although there was a show of strength and substantial gains at the opening the market quickly changed its tone and during the first fifteen minutes nearly all the important issues were supplied at substantial concessions. The buying at the start reflected moderate accumulation of commission orders over Sunday, but this demand was quickly killed and general pressure from some unknown source caused a quick reaction. Mexican Petroleum opened a point higher at 122 and then fell to 118 3/4. Steel common made an opening gain of 3/4 at 87 1/2, followed by a decline to 87 1/4. American Smelting advanced 3/4 in the initial trading to 110 1/2 but dropped to 109 1/2 in the next few minutes. New York Central moved in the same way, opening 3/4 higher at 110 1/2 with a reaction to 109 1/2. Marine preferred dropped 1/4 to 78 1/2 and gains of around a point were sustained in American Can, Baldwin Locomotive and St. Paul. Bethlehem Steel opened ten points higher at 440. At the end of the first fifteen minutes the tone was weak with the leading issues under pressure.

During the late forenoon there was an uncertain tone and many issues showed a reactionary tendency. Western Louses were large sellers of Steel common, which after selling at 87 1/2 dropped to 86 1/2, rallied again to 87 1/2 and then dropped to 86 1/4. Anaconda Copper was freely supplied, declining a point to 89 1/2, while Inspiration advanced to 47 1/4, a gain of 1/4. The war order issues were weak and declined sharply under some heavy selling. Money loaning at 1 1/2 per cent in the late afternoon was in free supply at moderate concessions. Anaconda Copper, United States Steel common and American Smelting were offered in large blocks and all sold materially under Saturday's close. New York Central was exceptionally strong, selling at 110 1/2, a gain of one point. General Motors sold at a net gain of three points to 46 1/2. Studebaker declined 3/4 to 156 1/4 and American Steel Foundries was off 1/4 to 57.

The market closed weak. Trifling rallies from low levels met a steady supply. There was a disposition to apprehend further liquidation of war order speculative holdings. Strong foreign did not offer resistance. Steel common fell to 86, against 87 1/2 at the start. American Locomotive, Crucible Steel and Maxwell Motors showed a lack of demand. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds strong.

How hard I worked at that tremendous shorthand and all improvements appertaining to it! I will only add to what I have already written of perseverance at this time in my life, and of a patient and continuous energy which then began to be matured in me, and which I know to be the strong point in my character, if I have any strength at all, that there, on looking back, I find the source of my success.—Charles Dickens.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Jan. 10.—Tennis calls for the best there is in a person, for the utmost in mental effort and the utmost in physical.

The greatest injustice that ever has been done to tennis is to refer to it as a "mollycoddles" game. It is a strenuous game—a game that weaklings cannot play. It calls for more exertion and more skill than do baseball or even football. No one can play tennis who isn't in extremely good physical condition, because the strain of the game will wear down quickly all those who are not physically fit.

If you play tennis yourself you know the truth of this statement.

Now that all this might be worth your while to watch the playing of a few sets sometime—to watch the whirlwind action of the players.

Tennis a Real Game.

Tennis requires its devotees to be "on their toes" every second of the game. You hit the ball and send it sailing over the net, after a hard chase on your part, to meet it before it bounds out of your reach.

No one can afford to be a second after you hit the ball. Your opponent has driven it back at you. Sometimes it is headed straight at you, but often it is as far from you as your foe can land it. That's the game—to place the ball where the other fellow can't hit it.

The net game really is a game for the young. It asks so much in speed and endurance that the older folks cannot play it. A portly person, as a tennis player, is a fizzle. He cannot cover the ground capably, and, as a result, he is just a joke as an opponent.

Tennis is a game that has come to the fore during the past five years with a wonderful rush despite prejudice.

Years ago it was a rich man's game. There were few public tennis courts, and the only courts were those conducted in connection with the exclusive country clubs. But times have changed.

Millions Play Tennis.

There are millions of tennis players in the United States today where there were only thousands a few years ago. The municipal authorities in the various cities found that tennis was a real game—and a beneficial one. So they installed courts in their public parks. Persons in many cities who owned vacant lots recognized the gradually increasing popularity of tennis and have built courts on those lots.

For those who are able to play the game there is no athletic contest that furnishes more mental or physical exercises. The constant chasing after the ball from one side to the other, brings the blood into healthy circulation and it hardens practically every muscle in the body.

And tennis develops the brain as much as it develops the body. A slow thinker never becomes a good tennis player, but the wits of a slow thinker always are sharpened a bit by playing the game. One's brain must move with the speed of lightning to keep up with the over shifting conditions in the game.

Alertness is the keynote of tennis, wrote one expert. And he is right. To play a good game of tennis one must be alert in body and brain. One must follow every movement of that ball, and, at times, anticipate it. One's brain must move quickly, and one's body must follow instantly the dictates of the brain. Tennis is a game in which fractions of seconds oftentimes mean defeat or victory.

If you would be healthy and sharp-witted, try tennis.

Rondout Presbyterian Church Notes.

The mid-week meeting for conference and prayer will be held in the chapel on Thursday evening. The subject will be "The Value of Work and the Cure of the Disease of Moral Laziness."

All the members of the Ladies' Aid Society are invited to come to the chapel with their sewing boxes on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. During the afternoon the church linen will be overlooked and the worn table cloth cut up into napkins and hemmed. Each member is invited to bring a basket lunch and remain for the evening prayer service.

Next Sunday the pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. G. Ellis, will take up a further examination of the answers to the questions concerning the religious problems of today and will present the answers of the men of Kingston to the question, "Do most men have a sympathy with religion?"

Wall Decorations

In planning for remodeling or decorating it is well to remember that vertical lines on a wall increase the apparent height of the ceiling, while on the other hand, horizontal lines on the wall bring the ceiling down. When the ceiling is too high striped wall papers and all vertical lines are to be avoided.

ENTERTAINMENT BY THE LITTLE FOLKS

The little folks who gave the entertainment at St. Mary's Hall on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the Home of the Holy Childhood, presented a charming program in a charming manner. There was a large audience, composed of the children of the home, children of St. Mary's School and their friends both children and grown-ups. "Ted" Humphrey acted as master of ceremonies and announced the first number on the program to be "Adeste Fideles," sung by the children of the Home of the Holy Childhood, and they sang this world-wide Christmas hymn as only children can sing it. Then a group of little tots gave a very amusing presentation of "Mr. Duck and Mr. Turkey," those taking part being Margaret O'Meara, Julius Cook, Betty Murphy, Peggy Haloran, Earla Schmidt, Dorothy Dinan and Katherine Deane.

It is worthy of note that the keen imagination of each child participating in the entertainment, made very real whatever part was taken by them. Little Julia Cook gave a realistic recitation of "Little Boy Blue," that must have deeply touched many an older heart. In an impelling manner, Dorothy Dinan sang, possessed of a very sweet voice, "Who Can Guess My Name?" accompanied by Mrs. Leary. For a very little girl, the piano solo, "March from Tannhauser," was given a truly remarkable finished performance by Katherine Deane.

Just here there seemed to be a change in the program, for instead of Ted Humphrey announcing the next number, his place was taken by Edmund Mahur, who stated that the next selection would be "Limitations of Youth," by Ted Humphrey, who appeared in full Boy Scout regalia, "armed to the teeth," and in spirited fashion and clear ringing voice gave his amusing recitation, returning Malar's compliment, Humphrey then announced "A Song, Booby," by Edmund Mahur, his sister Eleanor at the piano. The clear boy voice, the bit of dramatic action and the excellent piano accompaniment pleased all.

Another exceptionally good musical number was "Cavatina," by Schmidt, played by Master John Redican, violinist, and Hazel Radican, pianist. These two excellent young musicians gave a second selection, "Constant Devotion," by Glebel, and that too delighted the audience, especially as the tone of the youthful violinist was remarkably good.

The remainder of the program was devoted to exhibitions of aesthetic dancing by pupils of Miss Delta Boice, Miss Boice playing the accompaniments. Wee Betty Murphy was the first little fairy-like dancer and won all hearts. Then came such a pretty Japanese solo dance by Earla Schmidt. This little maid wore a lovely pale blue embroidered kimono, and carried a beautiful fan and into the hearts of her audience. The next dance was the "Pavlova Gavotte," given by Katherine Kearney, brave in boyish suit of black velvet, and Earla Schmidt, now a fetching little American lass, in frock and hat of delicate blue. This was an exceedingly pretty dance. So was the spirit-like "Poppy Dance," given by Helen Dwyer, who nodded and dipped and floated and waved just as any beautiful crimson poppy should. Her costume of white covered with red outline was very realistic, too, and her dancing very graceful. One of the loveliest dances of them all was "The Nightingale," by Katherine Kearney. Little Katherine seemed really more bird than child, and she poised, or floated, or swept low toward earth, or fluttered a moment and then flew away. With an inward ken she seemed to all but become that loveliest of song birds, which she typified. "The Nightingale." The closing number was the "Lulu Fado," danced with exceeding grace by Helen Dwyer and Katherine Kearney. After this final bit of gracefulness, Father Hickey took occasion to announce that ice cream and cake would be served and then thanked not only all the young people who had given an afternoon of such pleasure by the excellence of their performances, but also Mrs. J. W. Leary for arranging the program. Miss Boice for her artistic training of the little people, and all who had assisted in any way in the success of the day. It was learned that the entertainment netted a gratifying sum for the benefit of the Home of the Holy Childhood.

Boys Tell of Trip.

Sunday evening's most interesting service was held in the Albany Avenue Baptist Church when the boys who had attended the Rochester conference for boys held recently had charge of the meeting and spoke of their experience. ## FIELD OF SPORTS.

Notes of Baseball, Fuglism and Other Lines of Athletics.

By Telegraph. The Freeman.
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—Charles H. Thomas, who still occupies the position of president of the Chicago National League Club, received a call today from Charles H. Weeghman, who within the next ten days will relieve Thomas of his job. The two went over together the contracts of Cub players. Weeghman found many of the Cub's contracts called for surprisingly large salaries for the 1916 season. The expense of running the team this year will be larger than Weeghman expected. The question of taking the Cubs to Tampa to train this spring will be gone into by the two presidents.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—President Ban E. Johnson of the American League was to be in Cleveland today to lend his aid to the effort being made to sell the Cleveland Baseball Club. When he left Chicago last night he said he was still hopeful of interesting Cleveland capital in the venture.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 10.—Joe Golden, representing a syndicate of San Antonio (Tex.) men, was here today hoping to arrange a championship battle between Freddie Welsh and Charley White. He said he was prepared to offer $15,000 and would post the money as soon as the battlers agreed to sign articles.

HAROLD JANYRIN.

JENVRIN FIRST HOLD-OUT OF THE SEASON.

Although the settling of the dove of peace in the baseball world has flooded the market with good players, thereby bringing down the price of stars to a certain extent, Harold Janyrin, the Boston Red Sox player, has the distinction of being the first hold-out of the season. Janyrin has not yet appended his signature to a Red Sox contract and is said to be holding out for more money. Joseph Lannin, the owner of the Sox, thinks well of Janyrin and wants to keep him, as evidenced by his refusal to put through a trading deal with Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Browns, involving Janyrin.

Lannin expects Janyrin to come around before the season opens. He may emulate Tris Speaker who usually does not sign up until after arriving at the training grounds.
